Death Penalty In Germany Widened New Berlin Drive To End Activities Against the Nazis

Government Clamping Down On Its Opponents Classed As "State Enemies," Says "Treason Against People" to Be Punished

Veterans Barred On Hindenburg Day

Associated Press
Berlin, Aug. 2.—Hindenburg, state secretary for the Ministry of Justice, disclosed today that activity against the Nazi party and its organizations will be regarded as treason against the people and will be punished by death under the new criminal code.

"Treasonous activities against the people are the most severe crimes," he said. "Treasonous place themselves outside the community and a severe crime of this kind must be punished with outlaws, including the death penalty."

Severe punishment also would be provided for treasonable action by foreigners, he added, but such action could not be treated as treason against the people because foreigners are bound only by an obligation of hospitality, not by ties of allegiance to the nation.

VETERANS BARRED

His pronouncement was issued as Nazi Germany observed the first anniversary of the death of President Paul von Hindenburg, but excluded the war veterans who were close to the marshal's heart—the Steel Helmets—from participating in memorial services at the grave.

The Stahlhelm (Steel Helmet) war veterans' organization, subjected with Jews and "political Catholics" to the Nazi campaign against "state enemies," were omitted from those permitted to take part in the ceremonies at the Tannenberg Memorial, where the body of Von Hindenburg was laid to rest a year ago.

While the German press lambasted the marshal's passing at a critical period, it was careful to praise Hitler (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

ARREST ENDS WIDE SEARCH

M. Zenge Held at Chicago For Mutilation-murder of Dr. W. J. Bauer

Associated Press
Chicago, Aug. 2.—Mandeville Zenge, twenty-six-year-old Canton, Missouri, carpenter, sought in the mutilation murder of Dr. Walter J. Bauer, was seized today in a taxicab garage on the west side of Chicago.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state attorney's office, led a squad into a garage, following a taxicab in which Zenge was riding.

The arrest was announced after J. Andy Zenge of Canton, the suspect's father, had admitted the man in custody was his son.

"Zenge hasn't talked yet," said Capt. Gilbert.

WIDESPREAD SEARCH
Police of four states had sought Zenge since Dr. Bauer was found dying early Wednesday morning. At an inquest yesterday the pretty twenty-three-year-old widow of Dr. Bauer said she had been engaged to Zenge for seven years prior to her recent marriage to Bauer.

Later, a suicide note was discovered in which Zenge said "I am going to jump in the lake." He was "miserable," the note said, over losing Louise, Bauer's wife.

The note made no mention of the brutal attack on Bauer. Police Capt. John Stenge at once branded the note a hoax, saying it was a ruse to throw police off the track.

New Trial For A. E. Jarvis On Ontario Charges

Attorney-General Recommends Federal Minister of Justice Grant Rehearing of Bond Accusations on Which Broker Served Jail Term

Canadian Press
Toronto, Aug. 2.—A new trial for Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., convicted of conspiracy in 1924 in connection with an Ontario Government bond deal, was recommended today to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa in a communication from Attorney-General Arthur W. Roebuck.

"It is my considered opinion that in the interest of justice a new trial of Aemilius Jarvis Sr. should be ordered," Mr. Roebuck wrote in a long report prepared as the result of his inquiry into the whole Jarvis case. "As the granting of such relief is placed by the Criminal Code within your discretion, I have felt it my duty to bring these facts to your attention."

DOUBTS AS TO FINDINGS
The Ontario Attorney-General emphasized "it must not be concluded I have come to any conclusions as to the guilt or innocence of Mr. Jarvis."

But I do say there are grave doubts as to the accuracy of the jury's findings on the incomplete evidence submitted.

"As a result of my investigations, I am of the opinion my predecessor in office was in error in advising the Minister of Justice that no relief be granted Mr. Jarvis."

READY TO ACT
Decision as to whether Mr. Jarvis will get the new trial for which he has fought for many years now rests with Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Federal Minister of Justice.

It has been said Mr. Guthrie would grant another hearing for the investment dealer if it was recommended by the Attorney-General of Ontario.

POLAR FLIERS ARE READY TO START

Associated Press
Moscow, Aug. 2.—Otto Schmidt, head of the northern sea route department, announced at 5 p.m. the polar plane might take off later to-night or early to-morrow on its attempt to fly non-stop to San Francisco.

It was raining in Moscow at that hour, but it was believed possible the three fliers might take off from the concrete runway of Smolkovsky military airport twenty-five miles from the capital.

The route is over the North Pole; the Northwest Territories of Canada, and Vancouver, B.C., to California.

Post, already indignant because, he said, the silvery pontoons were not exactly what he wanted, refused to divulge when he planned to leave the Benson airport, south of Seattle, or what route he would take.

COMES ON VISIT
TO CANADA
London, Ont., Aug. 2.—Michael McCordell pleaded guilty today to a charge of kidnapping John S. Labatt. He was remanded until August 16 for sentence.

John Bannan, also charged with the abduction, was not asked to plead and was remanded until August 16. McCordell was brought to London yesterday evening by Inspector Hamor Gardner of the Ontario Provincial Police. In a scuffle with a photographer at the station McCordell suffered a fracture of one arm. He fainted at the jail and was taken to a hospital, where he was kept in the prisoners' cage.

McCordell was arrested at Crown Point, Ind., in connection with a hijacking charge. He fought a running gun battle with police before being caught. Canadian authorities announced last July 23 McCordell was wanted in connection with the kidnapping of the wealthy London brewer. There were unconfirmed reports McCordell was the "brains" of the kidnapping gang and the writer of the $150,000 ransom notes who signed himself "Three-Fingered Abe."

RELIEF POLICY UNDER REVIEW

B.C. Problem Studied With View to Changes

A new approach to the unemployment relief problem is being considered in government circles and revision of the provincial policy in the administration of the service is expected.

While British Columbia is not ready to clamp down hard like Ontario and Manitoba have done because available jobs were going unfilled, a change in the method of handing out relief is regarded as necessary.

The tendency of the relief system to discourage a man from seeking work must be firmly met, the government believes. While every encouragement is offered under the present allowance system for a man to augment his relief by odd jobs, the wide variation in types of relief cases makes a universal policy difficult of administration.

To meet this situation, the first thing proposed is to segregate the relief roll into definite classes of unemployed, partially employables, farmers and those who are physically fit and employable.

MANY FARMERS
About 5,000 of the 40,000 single and married men drawing relief are farmers, it is estimated. In former years they used to get a few weeks' steady cash to carry them along on their farms. Now they are on relief, but in actual fact, can hardly be classed as unemployed.

The government is considering a special farmers' assistance policy to help them, divorced altogether from "unemployment relief."

On a small scale the department has already experimented with this by paying a few farmers in one area relief allowance on the understanding they put in work on developing their (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

This is in case of grave developments arising from the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

EX-PRINCE IS AUTO VICTIM

Alexis Mdivani Loses Life in Spain; Baroness Near Death

Associated Press
Barcelona, Spain, Aug. 2.—Former Prince Alexis Mdivani, thirty-one, divorced husband of Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress, and colorful figure of international society, died today as dramatically as he had lived.

The Caucasian Georgian was killed instantly and his pretty young woman companion (identified as Baroness Mdivani von Thyssen) was injured critically in an automobile accident after he had volunteered to drive the woman to her home in Perpignan, France.

The couple left the palatial home at Palamos of Mdivani's sister, Mrs. Jose Marie Sert, where the woman had been a house guest, shortly before last midnight. Mdivani's powerful roadster struck a culvert at Labona, Girona Province, and plunged into a deep gully.

Two hours later Mrs. Sert was notified a motorist had found an overturned car and her brother's body had been taken to an undertaking establishment at Albons.

Parasites Open War On Earwigs

Ten Thousand Let Loose Against Garden Pests in City; Maggots March to Battle on Enemies' Backs

The earwig war is on. Under the command of W. Downes, Dominion entomologist, battalions of parasites numbering altogether 10,000 marched out of their tin can billets against the insect hosts in various strategic points in the districts around Victoria, yesterday afternoon.

But unlike Napoleon's army which is said to have marched on its stomach, this parasite army marched on the backs of its enemies.

At 3 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Downes opened the first major offensive in British Columbia against the earwig hordes when he loaded about fifteen cigarette tins full of parasitized earwigs into his car and drove off to the Fairfield district.

At the corner of Oscar and Chester streets where the original infestation took place, he stopped the car and inquired from the owners of gardens how the insects were. When he found out they were still bad he emptied out two cans in a vacant lot. A thousand parasitized earwigs scuttled away under cover.

These diseased insects will die in a week or two when the maggot emerges from their bodies. The maggots will then form pupae which will later become flies. These flies lay maggots which live on the earwigs.

"We are only releasing parasites where we know they will have the best chance of surviving, that is in the badly infested areas," Mr. Downes said.

Besides the Fairfield district, parasites were let loose at the Exhibition Grounds, near the Oak Bay Park, in Victoria West by Craigflower Road, on North Park Street, in James Bay not far from the Parliament Buildings, and in the Glen district.

Wasps As Ally In Earwig War?

Farmers See Them Feasting on Insect Pest, But Yellow-backs Only Eat the Dead Ones Entomologists Say

Reports that wasps might be an ally in the scientists' on earwigs in that they had been seen eating up these garden pests were discounted this morning by Dominion Entomologist W. Downes.

"Wasps are scavengers and eat mainly dead insects," Mr. Downes said. "Sometimes of course they will attack and kill an insect, but they would be no factor in the control of the earwig."

Farmers in Saanich when pitching hay into wagons had seen wasps feeding on earwigs under the hay cocks.

Though the haymakers sent up a cheer for the wasps, they were probably just clearing away a few dead earwigs and leaving the rest in peace.

The news that the wasps will not prove a factor in the earwig battle will be received with few regrets. Prospects of mass breeding of wasps, even for this purpose, would be regarded as a mixed blessing.

JAIL BREAKERS' PLOT IS FOILED

Meat Saw Used on Bars By Prisoners at Alberta Provincial Jail

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Aug. 2.—Attempted jail break by three prisoners at the provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan was discovered Tuesday night and nipped in the bud by prison officials, it was learned here today.

Discovery of the attempted break was followed Wednesday, as a result of another incident, by a "bedlam of shouting" by fourteen others serving time in connection with the recent riot at the disturbances in Edmonton, other reports say.

The attempted jail break was prevented when prison officials learned three prisoners had been using a meat saw, taken from the kitchen, to cut three bars. Dough taken from the kitchen and blackening from the stove had been used to cover up the saw marks.

Warden William McLean said one bar had been sawn through before discovery of the escape efforts was made. It was said here the plan became known to officials because another prisoner "snitched."

The warden and provincial officers denied there had been any disturbance on the following day.

NEW ARBITRATION OF WAR THREAT

It was hoped the council at its next session would stamp approval on the procedure which in the main called for resumption of the arbitration commission and would delay League discussion until the French, British and Italians could have another month or so for attempts to reach a total settlement.

FRANCE AS MEDIATOR
The issue over procedure had lain between Britain and Italy, with France playing the part of mediator. Britain's aim was said to be to bring Italy down to direct negotiations, to state clearly and definitely what she wanted. So far Italy's aim had only been indicated by press references to a mandate or protectorate over Ethiopia.

Britain was pressing to have the negotiations kept within the orbit of the League. Mussolini was standing for negotiations apart from the League. Britain, as provided in the original Anglo-French draft resolution, wanted a definite date fixed for reference back to the Council. Mussolini did not want a limiting date, it was stated, so drafts and revisions for two days had been back and forth to Rome.

In all these hectic negotiations Ethiopia seemed almost forgotten. The short, slight figure of Teclé Hawarié, Ethiopian minister at Paris and spokesman here, with the curiously detached air of a grand seigneur, hung like a dark shadow on the fringe.

The British and French have been assuming Ethiopia would agree to any formula they could accept themselves, but Ethiopia was said to be feeling disturbed. The formula so far had been based on the 1906 treaty between Britain, France and Italy, in which the three defined their spheres of influence in Ethiopia. The Emperor of Ethiopia never accepted that agreement, merely acknowledging receipt of a copy six months after it had been signed, and there were hints that this reference back to a treaty Ethiopia did not sign would not be welcomed in Addis Ababa.

ITALIAN TROOP ORDERS
Canadian Press via Havas
Rome, Aug. 2.—New Italian army mobilization orders are about to be issued here in preparation for possible war with Ethiopia. It was learned this evening.

Fascist militia, who are taking prominent part in the expeditionary forces to East Africa, are not affected in the immediate orders, it was understood. Only regular army troops are concerned.

These developments came at a moment when Premier Benito Mussolini was weighing decisions to be made this evening.

URGES WIDER U.S. INFLUENCE

SIR HERBERT AMES

Montreal, Aug. 2.—The United States is to blame for the trouble in Ethiopia today, just as it was responsible for the creation of Manchukuo, Sir Herbert Ames, treasurer of the League of Nations from 1919 to 1926, said here today before sailing for England aboard the liner Duchess of Bedford.

"The covenant of the League of Nations," he recalled, "expected that all the big powers would be in it. It is all very well for Britain to take a lead, but she must not go too far without the United States taking an attitude, which she does not do when she is outside the League." Sir Herbert said.

Nazis Ousting Correspondents

Other Foreign Writers Expected to Follow E. Klein of Basle

Canadian Press from Havas
Berlin, Aug. 2.—Ernst Klein, Berlin correspondent of the Basler Nachrichten, Swiss newspaper, which had a large German circulation before it was banned by the Nazis, was ordered today to leave Germany within five days.

Klein, an Austrian, has been the object of attacks in the Nazi newspapers for the last few months.

The order against Klein was regarded as the first action in repressive measures threatened against foreign correspondents.

Officials of the Propaganda Ministry have been busy for the last few days calling in foreign correspondents and telling them their reporting does not please the Nazi regime. The ministry has called in men who have been in Germany more than a dozen years among them two former presidents of the Foreign Press Association.

In each case, the man summoned was told his reports on the German situation were displeasing and this was "merely a preliminary warning."

"What of it?" he asked and turned away.

When interviewers repeated his own question to him, he said:

"You know what happened, don't you? Well, the Senate finance committee just recommended it, and that's all that's been done."

POSED FOR CAMERA
He objected to the presence of newspaper photographers, but finally consented to pose with his plane, but when someone asked a mechanic, in the camera's field, to look up, Post complained:

"I'm paying these fellows to work. I'm not paying you."

The plane, a biplane, is scheduled as the next stopping point of the Post on the way to Moscow. After their arrival here yesterday Post explained he and his wife were on a pleasure jaunt—an 8,000-mile journey which began at Los Angeles Wednesday and continued to Seattle from San Francisco.

The new plane will fly without a name, only a number, for Post said he had no intention of renaming it after his Winnie Mae.

GREETINGS FROM FLIERS
Seattle, Aug. 2.—Seeking a chance to say "Hello" to Wiley Post, Capt. Rex McClellan, Sgt. Henry Tamson and Corp. Lewis Krause, army fliers returning to Washington, D.C. from a 12,000-mile round trip flight to Point Barrow, Alaska were resting here today.

"We have just traversed some of the roughest I will cover," said Capt. McClellan.

Their two-motored amphibian plane arrived here late yesterday from Ketchikan. They plan to take off tomorrow for Washington.

His Vancouver meeting is scheduled for Monday evening. Then he will tour his constituency of East Kootenay before going to Alberta. Definite announcement of Alberta meetings has not been made, although he will probably spend August 12 and 13 in that province, speaking at Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge.

Aberhart Speaks In Vancouver

Social Credit Leader Optimistic About Alberta Election August 22

Canadian Press
Vancouver Aug. 2.—Social credit is the only way to put purchasing power in the hands of the consumer, in the opinion of William Aberhart of Calgary, leader of the Alberta Social Credit League.

"Social credit is based on co-operation," Mr. Aberhart said yesterday in addressing a service club here. "No one part of society should profit through the ill of another. In social credit we use as our first term the phrase 'cultural heritage,' which is the birthright of every citizen."

ALBERTA ELECTION
Mr. Aberhart was optimistic about the result of the Alberta provincial election August 22.

"If we get in, we will look after our own money," he said. "Ninety-five per cent of monetary business is done with cheques, drafts and so on, anyway. For the important 5 per cent we will put out a deferred-payment scrip."

He warned women present that present-day governments were telling them in effect they "would have to learn how to wear gunny sacks and hear their children cry for bread and water."

FUEL INQUIRY IS ADJOURNED

B.C. Investigation Will Be Resumed Sept. 9 at Fernie

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 2.—The royal commission investigating the fuel inquiry in British Columbia was adjourned today by the commissioner, Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, until September. When sessions will be resumed at Fernie.

Service stations now operating in the Vancouver district are entirely sufficient to supply the needs of the motoring public, C. E. Ansie, vice-president and general manager of the Shell Oil Company of B.C. Ltd., testified.

After first denying his company had any opinion to express on the spread required by gasoline stations to realize a profit, Mr. Ansie stated he believed it was sufficient spread in the existing districts, owing to lesser gasoline distributed and greater operation costs.

TO LOOK INTO PLANE CRASH

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 2.—Inspector H. C. Ingram of the Department of Civil Aviation arrived here today from Edmonton to investigate Tuesday's plane crash at Alta Lake, B.C., which resulted in the deaths of three persons and seriously injured a fourth.

Inspector Ingram is acting in the absence of Inspector R. Carter, guest of Vancouver, who is in the Yukon on an inspection trip. His findings will be reported to a board of inquiry.

David Sloan, managing director of Pioneer gold mines of British Columbia Limited, sole survivor of the crash, remained in a critical condition in the Vancouver General Hospital today. His condition was "unimproved."

TUNNEL PIERCED AT NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 2.—New York's new mid-tunnel tunnel to the New Jersey shore, a cylinder of steel more than a mile long, was holed through today.

In the damp coolness of the caisson off the Thirty-ninth Street pier, the "sand bogs" came through with picks and shovels while two small armies of spectators, on either side of the wall of muck, cheered themselves hoarse.

As the hole widened enough to permit a man to get from the New Jersey side of the bore to the Manhattan side, marking another step in the conquest of man against nature, Harry Sprittling of Pinedorf, N.Y., a master mechanic and veteran sand hogger, squirmed his way through.

RELIEF POLICY UNDER REVIEW

own property rather than on government work. This has met with some success.

The so-called unemployable class, which includes aged persons, physically unfit and similar cases, is essentially a welfare matter rather than unemployment relief. It is estimated in official quarters that the cost of this charity work which goes through the relief offices totals close to $1,250,000 a year. Before the depression the entire bill for indigency from public funds was not more than $250,000. The question now arising is whether such persons, who could not work if jobs were available, should be turned over to welfare authorities to handle as charity cases.

The case of the partially employable offers a separate problem. These people formerly eked out a living with part-time work and are not true unemployed. As welfare cases they could be better handled.

The last class, which is the real unemployed, are those who could take in-time jobs if they were offered. In the final analysis, it is claimed, these are the people for whom unemployment relief in the strict sense, is provided. If they were separated from the others a fair policy of dealing with them could be devised.

While these matters are giving relief authorities much to think about, it is likely any change in policy will wait until after the federal election, as the action of a new government would likely have an effect on the situation.

New Trial For A. E. Jarvis On Ontario Charges

Mr. Roebuck refused to "pass upon the weight which could be attached to the evidence of Andrew Papell" (associate of Mr. Jarvis who died last Tuesday in California), but the Attorney-General suggested the jury which tried Jarvis should have had the advantage of hearing Papell's evidence.

"And a decision rendered without first hearing what Papell had to say is open to serious doubt," Mr. Roebuck added.

Alexis Jarvis, along with the late Peter Smith, former Ontario Provincial Treasurer, was convicted in October, 1924, of conspiracy to defraud the province in bond transactions. Jarvis was sentenced to six months in the York County Jail and Smith to three years in the penitentiary. They were also ordered to pay jointly a fine of $500,000.

Jarvis appealed and on March 29, 1925, a decision was handed down reducing the fine imposed on him to $50,000, in addition to the restitution of $140,000 profit he had made on a bond deal with the Ontario Government out of which the charges arose. The fine against Smith was revised to $100,000.

The court took into account that Jarvis on March 6, 1925, had sent to the government a marked cheque for $140,000 with a note stating the amount represented his profits in the bond transactions plus 5 per cent interest.

On April 23 a certified cheque for $50,000, the amount of the revised Jarvis fine, was paid. Jarvis served out his term at the municipal jail farm.

at the same time for taking hold of the reins of state without disturbance which the newspapers said might well have come.

An Associated Press dispatch from Berlin yesterday evening spoke of "suppressed and smouldering German unrest," saying it had as fuel for its fires new warnings to faltering Nazis, new repressive measures directed against Jews, "steel helmets" and "state enemies," an anti-Jewish demonstration near the Bayerischerplatz and lurid newspaper extras.

Among yesterday's developments were listed:

Efforts of the Berlin Chamber of Industry and Trade to stop the bootlegging of foreign goods, which has increased with rising prices.

A pageful of Jewish pictures in Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' "Der Angriff" under the caption, "Unwanted."

New indications that the campaign against "state enemies" will be aimed at Freemasons as well as other groups.

Disolution of the steel helmet units in Neuhaldensleben county near Magdeburg.

Coblenz, Germany, Aug. 2 (Canadian Press from Havas)—Nazi authorities today renewed their offensive on German Catholics, "dismissing the Catholic War Veterans' Association in the Rhineland 'because of the existence of this confessional league could break national solidarity and provoke religious conflicts among war veterans.'"

At far-distant Koenigsberg, East Prussia, a papal prelate, a priest and a chaplain were sentenced respectively to eight, six and four months' imprisonment.

Mrs. Schults of Brunswick, and Rev. Fathers Hoppe of Mehlack and Suermann of Brunswick were convicted of "calumniating" a subordinate police officer, and the latter two priests were charged additionally with uttering "dangerous political statements" from their pulpits.

At Berlin the Reich war minister, Gen. Werner von Blomberg issued orders that henceforth all members of the German army who formerly were Nazi storm troopers must give the military salute to chiefs of the Nazi party when these leaders are in uniform.

Vancouver, Aug. 2.—Funeral service for the late Pilot W. R. McCuskey, was held here today. The pilot was killed with Dean and Mrs. R. W. Brock when his airplane crashed near Alta Lake, B.C. last Tuesday.

Rev. Bryce H. Wallace officiated and burial was in the returned soldiers' plot in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

the skull, she remained unconscious and hospital attendants said there was little chance for her recovery. They found no documents of identification.

COUNTLESS GRIEVES
Copenhagen, Aug. 2.—Count Curt Haghwitz-Reventlow, acting as spokesman for his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, expressed her grief today at the news of the death of her former husband, ex-Prince Alexis Mdivani.

"Prince Mdivani's death impressed Barbara deeply," he said. "They parted good friends and kept up the best relations."

The couple reached the count's family castle at Hardsburg after a journey by train from Paris.

"They learned of the death of Alexis in an automobile accident in Spain while still on the train."

BROTHER SHOCKED
Los Angeles, Aug. 2.—Prince David Mdivani was "deeply shocked" to learn his brother, Alexis, had been killed in a motor accident in Spain.

"I am deeply shocked and there is not much else I can say at a time like this," he said. "I plan to leave tomorrow or the next day, to sail to Spain to attend the funeral. My brother, Serge, is out of town on business."

The Los Angeles brothers were freed recently here of charges of grand theft and falsifying records of an oil company they operated.

Ex-prince Alexis Mdivani, son of the late Gen. Zachary Mdivani, former aide-de-camp to Czar Nicholas of Russia, was descended from the Mdivani family, which acquired the title of prince in 1783 for military achievements in Georgia, in the Caucasus, which became a Russian province in 1801. Titles in Georgia passed out when the province became part of the Soviet Republic.

Alexis was a familiar figure in international society circles. He married Barbara Hutton, heiress to Woolworth millions, at a civil ceremony in Paris, June 20, 1933.

It was his second marriage. His first was solemnized at Newport Villa, May 18, 1931, when he was married to Louis Astor Van Allen. They were divorced after a few months.

MARRIAGE RUMORS
His marriage to Barbara Hutton was ended at Reno last May 13. Since then there have been many rumors of impending engagements and marriages between the exiled Russian and members of famous families of Europe or the United States.

He was a brother of ex-prince David Mdivani, former husband of Mrs. Murray, film actress, and of Ex-Prince Serge Mdivani, former husband of Mrs. Negri, who later married Mary McCormack, opera singer.

Mrs. Serg, one of the Mdivani sisters, is the wife of Jose Maria Serg, Spanish mural painter. Another is married to Charles Huberich, international lawyer of Paris.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS
Gerona, Spain, Aug. 2 (Associated Press).—The woman companion who was critically injured when Ex-Prince Alexis Mdivani was killed in a motor-car accident here was tentatively identified to-night as the twenty-eight-year-old German baroness, Maud von Thyssen.

Many hours after the accident, the baroness was still unconscious and physicians at the local clinic said her life hung in the balance.

Man Admits Share In Labatt Kidnapping

YEAR SINCE CRIME
It was a year ago this month Mr. Labatt was kidnapped. Three men stopped his car last August 14 on a country road between his summer home near Salford, and London. He was taken to a hideout in the Muskoka district, 100 miles north of Toronto, and held for three days. He was released on the outskirts of Toronto in the early morning. Officials said none of the demanded $150,000 ransom was ever paid.

BLACK PERIOD
Nursing a broken arm in a guarded hospital ward to-day, McCordell looked back on the last six months as the blackest period in his life.

Last February, he told his guards, he was in an automobile speeding eighty miles an hour when it overturned. He was pulled from the wreckage with a fractured neck. For three months he lay in a cast.

Then, a month ago, the kidnapper was chased by Indiana police, who opened fire on him. When captured, McCordell had his right index finger shot off and the muscles in his shoulder torn by bullets.

The Indiana police charged him with armed banditry on the Chicago-Detroit highway, and it was while in custody at Crown Point, Indiana, he identified as one of the Labatt kidnappers.

Six months ago, Michael McCordell was a husky 180-pounder. To-day he weighs just 150 pounds and faces a possible term of twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

COOLING OFF DURING HEAT OF ETHIOPIAN DISPUTE

PALESTINE GETS GERMAN JEWS

So Many Refugees to Bible Land That Saturation Point Is Being Reached

Associated Press
Jerusalem, Aug. 2.—Hounded out of Germany by anti-Semitic boycotts and violence, Jewish immigrants are pouring into Palestine in tens of thousands.

So great has the influx of Jewish refugees been in recent months that serious concern is felt as to how many more can be absorbed by this little Biblical land. The saturation point, it is said, lies not far ahead. Official figures show 4,343 Jewish immigrants arrived in June, and for the first six months of this year there were 28,121, compared with 42,356 for the twelve months of 1934. In 1933 the total was 30,327.

Crowded conditions are beginning to offer a difficult problem, but on the other hand the newcomers are bringing in capital in such amounts that the country is enjoying a brisk boom in trade and industry.

In last month's arrivals, for example, 354 came in under the capitalist category, bringing with them at least $5,000 each or a total of $1,770,000.

COURT ORDERS CHURCH SEIZED

Canadian Press
Montreal, Aug. 2.—Judicial history was made here yesterday when, for the first time in the Province of Quebec, a seizure of a church was provided for. The Superior Court issued a writ to seize the church building and presbytery of the financially-harassed Catholic parish of St. Etienne.

The writ, issued to satisfy a claim of Dame Emilienne Delorme for $6,237, which she had loaned to the parish, places the church property in Montreal, as well as the surrounding N.B. died yesterday of heart disease at the age of sixty-five. He had been a member of the New York Times staff thirty years last June 29.

Dr. Thorne, physician who became a newspaperman, collapsed as he was walking towards his summer home from the beach. He had left for his vacation last Friday.

Dr. Thorne was born in 1870. In 1901 he left medicine and became a reporter on The New York Evening Sun, leaving it in 1905 as an editor. He was in Buffalo when President McKinley was assassinated and because he was a physician obtained several exclusive stories on the stricken President's condition.

FIVE MEN SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Regina, Aug. 2.—Ivan Bell, arrested during the Dominion Day rioting in Regina, was dismissed for lack of evidence at the close of the preliminary hearing of six strikers in R.C.M.P. court yesterday. Bell was charged with being a member of an unlawful organization.

Arthur Evans, John Cosgrave, Matt Shaw, Geo. Black and Ernest Edwards were committed for trial in a higher court on similar charges.

The commitments yesterday brought the number of them slated for September trial as result of the relief camp strikers' invasion to thirty-eight.

These committed yesterday were the last of more than fifty relief camp strikers from Alberta and Saskatchewan who appeared in court after being arrested on charges growing out of the Dominion Day riot.

WHISPERING PLOT FAILED

Lobbyist Wanted Companies to Suggest Roosevelt Insane

Associated Press
Washington, Aug. 2.—E. P. Cramer, New Jersey advertising man, told the Senate lobby committee yesterday he had suggested months ago that utilities companies start a whispering campaign that President Roosevelt was insane.

Cramer previously had told of suggesting to the Electric Bond and Share Company a detailed programme in an effort to defeat the New Deal. He said the whispering campaign was one of his recommendations, but the programme had not been carried out.

He was a surprise witness. He was questioned about a letter he wrote to C. E. Croesbeck, chairman of Electric Bond and Share, suggesting the plan for leading the New Deal.

When Chairman Black first asked him about recommending whispering campaign he flatly denied it. He finally conceded it, however, when Black placed in the record a letter Cramer had written to Croesbeck March 23, saying in part and in the same way that the official (Democratic) publicity director in 1932) so successfully discredited Hoover.

Questioned by Black, Cramer agreed there was "no bases" for believing the President was insane, and that he had never seen him.

SMUGGLER OF CHINESE HUNTED

Canadian Press
Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 2.—Police worked to-day to uncover the Trinidad agent of a smuggling ring believed to be operating here, luring Chinese to the United States with the prospect of sharing in gold mine exploitation.

Statements of six Chinese returned to the island this week after an unsuccessful attempt illegally to enter the United States as stowaways aboard the liner Haiti pointed to the existence of such an international ring, police said.

TEN MORE DIE IN HEAT WAVE

But U.S. Mid-west Hopes For Respite From Sizzling Sun's Rays

New York, Aug. 2.—Respite from the pitiless heat of the last month appeared in store for the midwest today after at least ten were added to the list of reported dead. Forecasts of a break in the heat there came after freakish weather in scattered parts of the continent.

Thunder and wind squalls in the east claimed two lives; western Montana had snowstorms and Arizona reported cloudbursts yesterday.

Heavy rains of short duration swept parts of Ontario and most of New York state.

The grain states, where the brunt of the heat wave has fallen, welcomed forecasts of thundershowers.

Four died of the heat yesterday in Chicago, where the temperature was 93, and one man fell from a tree at Beardstown, Ill., apparently overcome by heat, and died. There were two drownings in Chicago.

The day's maximum temperature was 100 at Beaver, Okla.

One man was drowned after he was swept from the deck of a fishing boat in Long Island Sound, where hundreds of craft were endangered by squalls. Large hailstones fell on Long Island and in upstate New York, where two were killed by lightning.

In Oklahoma there were heat deaths at Tulsa and Fort.

Saanich After Cheaper Water

Municipality Will Seek Reduction in Cost From City

Intimation that Saanich will make an attempt to secure reduced charges on water in order that they might be passed on to consumers, was given at the Saanich Council meeting yesterday evening.

The council tabled a report from R. R. P. Sewell, clerk, and H. H. Allen, engineer, stating reductions to consumers during the summer were not practical during the summer. The clerk and engineer were previously instructed to report on the suggestion following a discussion of the low rates introduced this year in the city.

CUT NOT PRACTICAL.

The officials gave their opinion as being that under the present system of operation reductions to the consumers for a portion of the year were not practical. They felt any readjustment should be made on the yearly scale.

It was pointed out that the city's consumption of water was 30,000 gallons in two months.

Reeve Crouch suggested the receiving of the report and spreading it on the minutes, the details to be borne in mind when the contract was renewed with the city, with a view to securing a lower rate.

Bus License Fee Is Handed Back

As forecast some days ago, the B.C. government has remitted a thirty-day non-resident commercial license fee of $22.70 imposed on a bus carrying botany students here from Ohio. The license fee was paid under protest, and after considering the case the government decided remission should be made.

EXPENDITURES ARE OUTLINED

A brief financial statement on expenditures to July 31 was submitted to the Saanich Council yesterday evening.

The statement indicated the major appropriations were well over half spent. Out of a $40,580 allotment for roads and bridges, $22,535 has been spent, while $22,771 has been consumed of the $30,000 relief appropriation. These figures, however, do not include the $16,300 loan to be used for road work. On the appropriation of $2,000 for repairs and renovations at the municipal yard, the council was overspent to the extent of $350.50.

HUNNINGS BACK FROM ALASKA

H. E. Hunnings, who recently returned from the brokerage business here, has returned with George Kidd from Alaska and Atlin, where they went to inspect the work they are carrying on for a private English syndicate developing a big area of placer leases.

Bruce McMicking, son of Dr. A. E. McMicking, went north with Mr. Hunnings to join the crew at the property, and will remain there for the season.

After debarking from the Alaska boat, Mr. Hunnings and party flew in from Carcross by flying boat to the placer workings. They brought out a quantity of gold on their return trip. Mr. Hunnings said the associates in England, upon the recommendation of the operating officials in the north, had decided on a considerable enlargement of the present rate of production. This will be carried out by the installation of larger equipment.

Stevens Party Here to Organize Clubs Before Choosing Candidate

No official consideration has yet been given to the naming of any person as candidate for election in the Victoria riding under the banner of the new Reconstruction Party. It was authoritatively announced to-day. All action has been deferred pending the arrival in the city of Hon. H. H. Stevens, who will address a "mass meeting" at the City Temple to-morrow night.

Local organization in each constituency will take the form of the establishment of a "club" in which, in open membership of such a club, that the candidate for election will be selected, although such selection must receive the endorsement of the Dominion executive.

Following Mr. Stevens' address on Saturday night a drive for membership of all sympathizers with the reconstruction programme will open, and within a few days all members will be called together to appoint necessary officers and committees and to submit names for consideration as candidates.

At Saturday's meeting the chair will be taken by Rev. E. F. Church, and the proceedings will be broadcast.

Name Delegates To Convention

Reeve Crouch and Councillor G. S. Eden, Ward Seven, were appointed Saanich delegates to the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention to be held at Harrison Hot Springs on September 10. Councillor A. G. Lambbrick, Ward Three, was named as alternate. Among the resolutions to be presented to the union will be one sponsored by Councillor Lambbrick favoring the imposition of an occupation tax on service charge.

The councillor was unable to secure a second to resolutions favoring certain exemptions from improvement taxation, the restricting of taxes for general purposes on farm land, and a court of revision consisting of members independent of the council.

Payment of general and relief account totaling $8,113 was authorized by the Saanich Council yesterday evening.

No Action On Health Report

Saanich Not Officially Aware of Published Statement, City Told

Because the recently published report of Dr. David Berman, medical health officer, did not officially come before the Saanich Council or the health committee, the council yesterday evening notified the City Council it would take no action in regard to complaints from the city following publication of the report.

The council defended the medical health officer after being informed he was not responsible for publication of the statement, since it came from provincial health authorities after having been submitted to them by Dr. Berman.

Councillor G. S. Eden, Ward Seven, expressed regret that Dr. Berman had compared health conditions in Saanich with those of the city, describing such procedure as "small stuff," and claiming that such procedure as illustrating health conditions were not necessary.

According to the council's information Dr. Berman had supplied the report to the provincial department, the latter having released it to the press.

Councillor E. C. Warren, Ward Two, suggested all officials' reports should be approved by the reeve before being released.

The City Council took exception to the statements made and requested from Saanich particulars regarding the statements in the report which were detrimental to city health standards.

JULY WEATHER BELOW NORMAL

Temperature and Sunshine Under Average During Month

July was a disappointing month for Victoria, as far as the weather was concerned, although there were a few bright patches. Both temperature and sunshine were below the average, and rainfall was considerably above it.

For the month, the mean temperature stood at 59 degrees, according to F. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gosses Heights. This was one degree below the average July figure. July 13 was the hottest day of the month, with 90 degrees, and July 5 and 6 were the coldest, with an average figure of 48.

Sunshine was thirty-five hours below the average for the month, with a total of 302 hours and forty-eight minutes. Rainfall was 54 of an inch, exceeding the mean for July by 31 of an inch.

For the seven months of 1935 the rainfall is 5.9 inches ahead of the average figure, with a total of 19.01 inches.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

TUESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1910
(From The Times Files)

Mayor Morley announced at last evening's meeting of the City Council that a by-law providing for an increased water supply for Victoria would have to be submitted at a very early date. It is assumed that the measure will be one providing either for the appropriation of the holdings of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company at Goldstream or the purchase outright at a figure in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

The twenty-third annual provincial tennis tournament opened yesterday on the courts of the Victoria Tennis Club at Cadboro Bay Road, and the mainland championship winners, B. F. Schwengers and Miss Violet Pooley, held their own in the opening matches.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Mann, D. D. Mann Jr., and Mr. Holt left last night for the east. Mr. Mann expects to return to the Coast next month. Hon. and Mrs. D. M. Everts have returned from a trip to the mainland. Bishop Ferris returned to Victoria yesterday from Alberni, where he dedicated the new church and instituted Rev. H. H. Lewis Seale as rector of the parish.

A large number of works of local improvements were authorized at last evening's meeting of the City Council. The by-laws passed last night made provision for the following: Grading, draining and laying bituminous macadam on Caposun Street between Pandora Avenue and Grant Street and constructing permanent sidewalks on both sides of the street with curb and gutters and necessary lateral sewer, water and surface drain connections.

The Saanich Council yesterday evening received an invitation to attend the Cordova Bay Recreation Club regatta on August 7.

NEW TENNIS COURTS OPEN

Premier and Finance Minister Win First Match at Civil Service Courts

The smashing victory of Premier Pattullo and the dangerous backhand of Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, proved too much for the shots of Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines and Labor, as the Premier and his finance minister won the initial fixture played on the new courts of the Civil Service Sports Club on Superior Street yesterday afternoon.

The match was played after Premier Pattullo had formally opened four hard-surfaced courts. It went one set and the score was 6-1.

Aubrey Walls, vice-president of the club, welcomed the ministers as they arrived on the courts and George R. Ford, chairman of the tennis committee, expressed the thanks of club members to the Premier and the government for assistance they had given in making the courts possible. He also expressed appreciation to members of the civil service who had given their time in making the venture successful.

Premier Pattullo spoke briefly and formally declared the courts open. A fairly large gallery watched the opening match between the government members.

Start of play on the tennis courts marked the extension of summer activities of the Civil Service Sports Club. Last winter they had badminton, ping-pong, basketball and gymnasium quarters open and also have a team in the softball league.

Toronto Scottish And Weston Beaten

Toronto, Aug. 2.—The ambitions of Toronto Scottish to represent eastern Canada in the Dominion Cup soccer championship received a rude jolt yesterday when a fighting, red-clad team from Northern Ontario defeated them with a 4 to 0 defeat and became strong favorites to take the Scots in two straight games. Falconbridge Mines, the team from the north, outplayed the Scots in every department, and at all stages of the game had plenty in reserve.

Winnipeg, Aug. 2.—Fort William Westford Wanderers, Thunder Bay soccer champions, hurled Weston United, Manitoba, 4-0, in the first game, Monday, and held the railwaymen to a 3 to 3 draw, Tuesday. The Wanderers took the round by virtue of two wins and a draw. They defeated Weston, 2 to 0, in the first game, Monday, and held the railwaymen to a 3 to 3 draw, Tuesday. The

Weddings

WARNER-DUFF STUART

Canadian Memorial Chapel, Vancouver, was the setting on Wednesday afternoon of the wedding of Margaret Isabel, daughter of Brigadier-General and Mrs. J. Duff Stuart, and Mr. Gerald Lyman Warner. Officiating was Rev. E. D. MacLaren, D.D., who also officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents. The wedding music was played by Mr. Frederick J. Chubb, of whom the bride was a former pupil.

Blue hydrangeas and Shasta daisies were effectively used in decoration throughout the chapel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended. Her gown was of ivory tulle lace with high cowl neckline and close-fitting sleeves, with rows of tiny satin-covered buttons from elbow to wrist. Close-fitting to the knee, the skirt flared into a fan-shaped train finished with a large scalloped border.

Her veil of silk tulle was held in place by a Russian coronet of velvet gardenia blossoms, with petals arranged over the crown. The traditional orange blossom was placed at the back of the closely-fitting cap. White corded silk shoes edged with gold and silver kid were worn. The color note was introduced by the bouquet of crimson roses showered with white sweet peas.

Mr. Frank H. Stuart, brother of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Mr. Arthur Wylie, Mr. Duncan MacFarlane and Mr. R. D. Richardson. Black lace and georgette were worn by the bride's mother, her picture hat edged with a narrow band of sky blue grosgrain ribbon on the under brim and finished on the front of the crown with a cluster of blue forget-me-nots and pink rosebuds.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a coat and dress ensemble of soft blue French wool boucle, the dress having a yoke of sand gathered in front with a blue and silver buckle with balloon sleeves of beige.

The matching woolen hat, with its medium brim was tilted over the right eye. The shoes were of matching blue, while gloves and purse were of beige.

Copenhagen, Aug. 2.—The Haugwitz family's old baronial castle at Hardenberg has been thoroughly dusted and its staff of thirty-five is excitedly awaiting the arrival to-day of Count Curt von Haugwitz and his bride, the former Barbara Hutton McDivan.

Curt's elder brother, Count Heinrich, head of the family, who uses few of the castle's many rooms, has reopened the main part, renovated fifteen rooms and moved his own apartments to another part.

It was learned that Heinrich speeded up the date of the newlywed's arrival by wiring them last week:

"The castle is now in order. If you do not come now I will close it down again."

The head of the house, preparing to welcome his brother and sister-in-law in the best Scandinavian style, invited a number of titled guests to a house party to meet them.

INDIAN PRINCESS TO SING HERE

Miss Muriel Dawley, an Indian princess from Washington, will be the soloist during the tea hour at the Empress Hotel to-morrow afternoon. Miss Dawley will wear Indian costume, and her songs will include the following appropriate numbers: "Pale Moon," "Indian Love Call," "Land of the Sky Blue Water," and "Coronado."

"LOAN" PAINTING TO BE RETURNED

Ottawa, August 2.—Judge E. J. Daly to-day ruled that Frederick Bayley of Toronto was entitled to possession of a painting loaned to the Canadian Historical Society of Ottawa. It was an oil portrait of Harriet McQueen of Toronto, Bayley's aunt, which she turned over to the Historical Society. Bayley claimed the painting had been loaned to the society and on Miss McQueen's death it went to him. The society insisted the portrait had been given outright.

MARRIED AT B.C. RANCH RESORT

Skookumchuck, B.C., Aug. 2.—The marriage took place yesterday afternoon of Kathryn Sturtevant, daughter of Mrs. Homer Sturtevant Johnson of Detroit, to Dell Myron Wade Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dell Myron Wade of Fargo, North Dakota, at the mountain resort, the Half Diamond Ranch at Skookumchuck.

The ceremony, originally planned for the garden, took place in the drawing room of the main lodge, because of overcast weather. The gowns of the bride and her attendants in harmonizing pastel shades made a beautiful picture against the bank of evergreens and mountain wild flowers which filled the end of the room. The bride's sister, Miss Betty Johnson, was maid of honor.

The two bridesmaids were Misses Joan and Shirley Macbeth, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kenneth Macbeth of Toronto and the flower girls, Miss Pamela Staples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Staples of Skookumchuck, and Miss Anne Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Graham of Cranbrook.

Charles Bissell Johnson of Detroit, gave the bride away and the groom was attended by E. L. Staples. Ushers were Henry Durand of Newark, N.J., and E. L. Staples Jr., of Skookumchuck.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. V. Harrison of Christ Church, Cranbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade left by motor at dusk on their wedding trip, which will take them to Banff and Lake Louise, Alta. They will take up residence at Hollywood, California.

5,000 CHILDREN ARE ADOPTED

One Ward of British Society Presented at Royal Court

London, August 2.—Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, a cousin of the King, has gathered many a true story of real-life Cinderellas in her sixteen years' presidency of the National Child Adoption Association. The Princess is busy with preparations for celebrating the adoption of the 5,000th child through the agency of the association.

One of these adopted children was presented at the last court. One little boy, only a few months old, had such curly hair and such an infectious smile that twenty-five women fell in love with him and all wanted to be his "mother."

One woman and her husband have actually adopted six of the association's children. All six are the children of different parents, but are being brought up together as brothers and sisters.

"After adopting one child people generally come again and adopt another," says Princess Alice. "Usually they have first a girl and then a boy. More girls on the whole are asked for than boys, and Scottish babies usually from Edinburgh are frequently very bonny and have a special fascination."

"Here is another remarkable thing: it is a positive fact that adopted children tend to become like the people who adopt them and with whom they live."

"There are always more people asking for babies to adopt than we have babies to give them."

"Many spinsters," adds Princess Alice, "now take up professional and other work which gives them a good financial position and enables them to adopt a child. Unmarried men have even adopted children."

IN SCHEDULE, LET CLOCK GUIDE—NOT MASTER—CHILD'S ACTIVITIES

We are inclined both to smile at, and admire, the individual whose habits can be timed by the clock. We all know the type—to see his car drive out of the garage is to know that it is ten minutes to eight.

The fixity of such orderly habits simplifies life for such an individual, for he does not have to take time to decide when such an activity shall take place. He sleeps, eats, bathes, shaves and goes to his work all according to an unalterable schedule.

Such regimentation is, up to a certain point, beneficial. In that it does relieve the mind of the necessity for making a thousand and one trivial decisions.

BABY'S SCHEDULE

Schedules for the infant and young child serve the same useful purpose. They put eating, sleeping and all the ordinary every day events into an orderly routine. Habit solidifies the routine, because the child is hungry or sleepy, is ready to play or ready to be bathed at the hours to which he rapidly becomes accustomed.

Not only is the mother relieved of the necessity for thinking about each individual activity—once it has been planned for—but the child does not quarrel with the plan. He accepts regularity of schedule as an evidence of an orderly universe in which the daily events of his life go off smoothly and as he anticipates them.

COMFORTING REGULARITY

Children need that sense of security which they enjoy when they feel that the universe is an orderly and not a better shaker place. When naps and meals and baths come about with the regularity of a machine, there is a comforting sense of their inevitableness and rightness. No use fighting against them—accept them and enjoy them.

But when we have recognized the benefits of an orderly routine, both from the standpoint of health and of the child's development of emotional security—then we should look at the other side.

AVOID "SLAVERY"

The universe is orderly. Habits are learned and performed because their performance in the same way is pleasurable. But, for the child to be ready for upsets—for him to develop initiative, not just conform to learned habits—there should be a balance of "unorderly" activities. The child should be allowed to decide how he shall act, and direct some of his activities without the dictation of the parent.

The child should be allowed the opportunity to sleep in strange beds, eat at strange tables, meet new play situations so that he gains flexibility and is not afraid of change. The unorderly and self-directed events of an ordered universe provides the balance which keeps a child—or an adult—from becoming a slave to a clock.

To-morrow: "Give Baby a Chance—He'll Learn to Walk When He's Ready."

SALT SPRING ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cross, Victoria, have been spending a holiday on Salt Spring Island as guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Cross at Ganges Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Wagg returned home on Monday evening, after spending a few days in Victoria visiting friends.

Mrs. F. L. Crofton was hostess at the tea hour on Sunday afternoon, when several of her friends were present to meet the Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of the Diocese, after service at St. Paul's Church.

Tablecloths, tumblers, or forks are not used by the Japanese.

ETHIOPIAN ROYALTY "AT HOME" TO GERMAN ROYALTY

In a peaceful, dignified scene which carries no hint of imminence of war with Italy, and yet strongly hints at Germany's sympathy with Ethiopia in event of strife, the royal family of Ethiopia is pictured above at the royal palace in Addis Ababa during a reception given for Herr Kirchhoffs, German ambassador, and his wife. In the group above are, left to right, seated, Frau Kirchhoffs, Empress Ete Menen, Emperor Haile Selassie and at extreme right, the German envoy. Between Frau Kirchhoffs and the empress is Mrs. Bertel, only white lady waiting at the Ethiopian court; at her left, Princess Jahal, and in the background, at left, other guests.

RENTS START Indian Princess UPWARD MOVE

New York, Aug. 2.—Dun and Bradstreet Inc., in a report to-day state that the acceleration of operations at many of the leading industrial centres and the improvement in general business conditions have resulted in a shortage of certain types of residential property. Some of the large rental agencies report that vacancies now are running at less than 1 per cent. Single homes renting under $80 a month are at a premium in many cities, although there is a moderate selection of the higher-priced homes still available. Apartments and income property are almost completely filled, with next year's lease already being renewed.

Reflecting this increased demand, rents in the residential field have risen from 5 to 15 per cent, as compared with the average obtaining at this time a year ago, while rents on desirable industrial property range from 10 to 20 per cent higher. Even with this increase, however, and the fact that most rental property is well tenanted, capital will not be interested in large housing projects until rents will have been advanced by a much higher percentage. Should such work be further delayed, serious housing shortages may develop within the next two years.

The present will be a baby brother, obtained from "The Cradle," the home where they got Sandra Jean.

Gourmets Won By Art Of Chef

Casper Anderregg, who presides over Empress Hotel Kitchens, holds the secret to Tickle the Palates of Epicurean Travelers.

With a great dining-room overlooking the waters of the Inner Harbor at the Empress Hotel filled to capacity for practically every meal with travelers from the far corners of the earth these summer days, it is more than a little interesting to learn which foods visitors find especially to their liking.

Walter P. Murphy, staff magnate, world traveler and financier, a guest at the Empress a week or so ago while his yacht The Intrepid lay at anchor in the harbor, enjoyed salmon caught in British Columbia waters, steamed as Casper Anderregg, chef of the hotel knows how, and served cold with salad. Mr. Murphy is a cosmopolitan. He has eaten in every place of note throughout the world. His chef aboard the Intrepid was, for years at the Waldorf Astoria, New York.

At the Empress during May, J. T. Whitty, retiring governor of Bahar, India, after thirty-five years of eating curries in a place where they queen the cuisine, put the seal of his approval on Empress curried lamb.

Indeed Anderregg's curries generally seem to rouse favorable comment. Mrs. Estelle Sprowle of Vancouver, recently returned from a two years' sojourn in China, where she ate diversified curries at least twice a week, spooned up her last mouthful of chicken curry with a mingled sigh of regret and satisfaction at the Empress one day this week. The regret being of course that the dish was finished. It was a very hot day too. But that, say travelers from the Orient, is when curries should be eaten—to thin the blood.

As a matter of fact, Chef Anderregg has a line of curries from crab served in the shell with a delectable ring of slightly browned mashed potatoes, to lamb with flittered fruits in a ring of rice that would appease the appetite of any Indian colonel, choleric or otherwise.

The Business and Professional Women of America at the Empress recently in their hundreds spoke enthusiastically of the deep blackberry pie served with thick cream at luncheon. Roast chicken at dinner accompanied by green peas savored with a soupçon of mint also met with their approbation.

Of course the salad plate, on the menu each day but varied to combine all the fresh fruits and vegetables in season up and down the Pacific coast are favored on warm days especially by American guests. What could be more appetizing when the mercury stands above eighty than to eat avocado in a ring of lettuce with an appropriate dressing? Or a mixed fresh fruit salad with a sauce apparently composed of clouds resting on Olympus mixed with flavors from the gardens of the Hesperides—of which Anderregg alone knows the secret.

Lamb narvarin is also a very favorite dish with travelers. Served at home you'd probably call it lamb stew. Served at the Empress it comes to table in individual round grist and white casseroles. Each morsel of lamb is delicately browned and sunk in delicious brown gravy. Small new carrots brighten the symphony of color and new peas top the whole.

Of deserts, green apple pie with its slight, appetizing tartness, probably tops the list right now. But run baby a la Empress takes a first any time.

The University of California has a machine that makes artificial snowflakes by mixing a cold and dry current of air with a warm and moist one.

ELSIE JANIS HURT BADLY IN CRASH

Seriously hurt when her auto crashed into a parked truck, Elsie Janis, above, one-time stage star whose wartime performances abroad won her the admiration of overseas troops, was taken to an Eastview, N.Y., hospital. Gilbert Wilson, her husband, with her at the time of the accident, suffered minor injuries.

LANGFORD

A return match in the South Vancouver Island Tennis League series will be played Saturday afternoon on the Langford courts between Langford and the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club.

Four stained glass windows in the chancel of St. Matthew's Church were dedicated at the Sunday morning service by the Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle, vicar, in memory of Robert E. Souter of the Royal Canadian Artillery, who passed away at Halifax on July 2, 1934. He was buried in the Colwood Park Cemetery. The windows were the gift of his mother, Mrs. W. A. Walker, a parishioner of St. Matthew's.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Scourgh, with their three daughters spent July at Langford Lake, have returned to their home in Victoria.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. of the Prince Edward Branch No. 81, Canadian Legion, will be held Monday at 2.30 o'clock, in the clubrooms. Rev. D. M. Houghton, of Maple Ridge, who with his family are in residence at the vicarage for the month of August, will take the evening service in St. Matthew's Church on Sunday.

Many visitors from island points were present Wednesday afternoon at "Pookland," Metchoin, the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Johnson, where a garden party and raspberry festival took place, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Prince Edward Branch, Canadian Legion. Mrs. C. H. Dickie of Nanaimo declared the fest open. She was introduced by Mrs. A. G. Mackie, president of the W.A.

YOUTH JUMPS FROM BRIDGE

New York, Aug. 2.—Julius Sanietag, twenty-two, yesterday duplicated the feat of Steve Brodie. He leaped from the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River. Taken from the water, he was rushed to a hospital, where authorities said he had suffered a concussion of the brain and possible internal injuries.

CANADIAN TO SWIM CHANNEL

A few days later I was again talking with Kamlot in my cabin when we were interrupted by a whistle at the door, and when I had bade him go, one of the Vepajan prisoners that we had rescued from the Sovong entered. He was not from Kooasod but from another city of Vepaja, and therefore none of the other Vepajans aboard knew anything concerning him. His name was Vilor, and he appeared to be a decent sort of fellow, though rather inclined to taciturnity. He had manifested considerable interest in the klangans and was with them often, but had explained this idiosyncrasy on the grounds that he was a scholar and wished to study the birdmen, specimens of which he had never before seen.

"I have come," he explained in response to my inquiry, "to ask you to appoint me an officer. I should like to join your company and share in the work and responsibilities of the expedition."

"We are well offloaded now," I explained, "and have all the men we need. Furthermore," I added frankly, "I do not know you well enough to be sure of your qualifications. By the time we reach Vepaja, we shall be better acquainted; and if I need you then, I will tell you."

"Well, I should like to do something," he insisted. "May I guard the janjous until we reach Vepaja?" He referred to Duare, whose title, compounded of the two words daughter and king, is synonymous to princess. I thought that I noticed just a trace of excitement in his voice as he made the request.

"The is well guarded now," I explained. "But I should like to do it," he insisted.

CHAPTER XXIX

The point of Kamlot's sword dropped slowly toward the floor. "I do not wish to kill you," he said rather sadly, all the nervous excitement gone from his manner. "You are my friend, you have saved my life—no, I would rather die myself than kill you, but the thing you have just said demands it."

I shrugged my shoulders; the thing was inexplicable to me. "What did I say that demands death?" I demanded. "That you intend to marry Duare."

"In my world," I told him, "men are killed for saying that they do not intend marrying some girl." I had been sitting at the desk in my cabin at the time that Kamlot had threatened me, and I had not arisen; now I stood up and faced him. "You had better kill me, Kamlot," I said, "for I spoke the truth."

He hesitated for a moment, standing there looking at me; then he returned his sword to its scabbard. "I cannot," he said huskily. "May my ancestors forgive me! I cannot kill my friend."

"Perhaps," he added, seeking some extenuating circumstance, "you should not be held accountable to customs of which you had no knowledge. I often forget that you are of another world than ours. But tell me, now that I have made myself a party to your crime by exclaiming it, what leads you to believe that you will marry Duare? I can in no way see how you can marry her."

"I intend to marry her, because I know that I love her and believe that she already loves me."

At this Kamlot appeared shocked and horrified again. "That is impossible," he cried. "She never saw you before; she cannot dream what is in your heart or your mad brain."

"On the contrary, she has seen me before; and she knows quite well what is in my mad brain," I assured him. "I told her in Kooasod; I told her again to-day."

"And she listened?"

"She was shocked," I admitted, "but she listened; then she upbraided me and ordered me from her presence."

Kamlot breathed a sigh of relief. "At least she has not gone mad. I cannot understand on what you base your belief that she may return your love."

"Her eyes betrayed her; and, what may be more convincing, she did not expose my perfidy and thus send me to my death."

He pondered that and shook his head. "It is all madness," he said. "I can make nothing of it. You say that you talked with her in Kooasod, but that would have been impossible. But if you had ever seen her before, why did you show so little interest in her fate when you knew that she was a prisoner aboard the Sovong? Why did you say that you thought that she was my sweetheart?"

"I did not know until a few minutes ago," I explained, "that the girl I saw and talked with in the garden at Kooasod was Duare, the daughter of the jong."

A few days later I was again talking with Kamlot in my cabin when we were interrupted by a whistle at the door, and when I had bade him go, one of the Vepajan prisoners that we had rescued from the Sovong entered. He was not from Kooasod but from another city of Vepaja, and therefore none of the other Vepajans aboard knew anything concerning him. His name was Vilor, and he appeared to be a decent sort of fellow, though rather inclined to taciturnity. He had manifested considerable interest in the klangans and was with them often, but had explained this idiosyncrasy on the grounds that he was a scholar and wished to study the birdmen, specimens of which he had never before seen.

"I have come," he explained in response to my inquiry, "to ask you to appoint me an officer. I should like to join your company and share in the work and responsibilities of the expedition."

"We are well offloaded now," I explained, "and have all the men we need. Furthermore," I added frankly, "I do not know you well enough to be sure of your qualifications. By the time we reach Vepaja, we shall be better acquainted; and if I need you then, I will tell you."

"Well, I should like to do something," he insisted. "May I guard the janjous until we reach Vepaja?" He referred to Duare, whose title, compounded of the two words daughter and king, is synonymous to princess. I thought that I noticed just a trace of excitement in his voice as he made the request.

"The is well guarded now," I explained. "But I should like to do it," he insisted.

It would be a service of love and loyalty for my jong. I could stand the night guard; no one likes that detail ordinarily."

"It will not be necessary," I said shortly. "The guard is already sufficient."

"She is in the after cabin of the second deck house, is she not?" he asked.

I told him that she was.

"And she has a special guard?"

"A man is always before her door at night," I assured him.

"Only one?" he demanded, as though he thought the guard insufficient.

"In addition to the regular watch, we consider one man enough; she has no enemies aboard the Sofal."

FIRST RAINIER SEES MOUNTAIN

Distinguished Englishman Here After Visit to Washington Cone

One of the most traveled Englishmen of the day, and a collateral descendant of Admiral Peter Rainier, whose name was given to the highest mountain of this part of North America, towering over Tacoma and Seattle, is in Victoria to-day. He has come here with his motor car.

He is the distinguished-looking J. L. Rainier of Hampshire, England. He has come to visit his sister, Mrs. J. F. Wilson of 1954 Southgate Street.

And, by the way, take it from Mr. Rainier, it is not "Rain-Year," pronounced in two syllables, but with the three syllables pronounced and the accent on the first like "Rain-er."

"But as I tell the people over there, I don't care what they call it as long as it rains, but I don't like to have my name pronounced that way," he added.

Mr. Rainier is not exactly a stranger to Victoria and Vancouver. He spent some time in Manitoba before 1908 and then came to British Columbia where he became honorary secretary of the British Isles Public Schools Association, officiating there until he returned to his Hampshire home after the signing of the Armistice. But it remained for him on this trip to pay his first visit to the mountain.

He saw it last week just as Capt. George Vancouver saw it when he sailed for the first time into Puget Sound.

Also, under the escort of Paul Seave of the National Parks organization, Mr. Rainier went into Rainier National Park and the mountain to the 6,800-foot altitude.

"Magnificent and beyond words," said Mr. Rainier of his trip up the mountain, where he was photographed.

Capt. Vancouver learned that the Indians called the mountain "Tahoma," or "our shining breast." He was so much impressed with the inspiring snow-capped cone that he asked permission to honor Admiral Rainier of His Majesty's Navy by using his name for it. Admiral Rainier never saw the mountain, nor have any members of his family, until Mr. Rainier made the pilgrimage from which he has just come to Victoria.

AFTER VIEW UP-ISLAND

Mr. Rainier bought a car in Vancouver, so he could go where and when he will. He went down through Aberdeen and up the Columbia River. From that distance he could see Mount Rainier on one side of him and Mount Hood on the other, both towering like great gleaming white cones, piercing up through the clouds into the heavens.

After a few days in Victoria, Mr. Rainier will go up the island as far as Courtenay. He wants to catch some fish, and will visit some old associates who are now living between

RAINIER AT MOUNTAIN

J. L. Rainier, descendant of famous old Peter Rainier, who has arrived to visit his sister here, is shown at Reflection Lake, Rainier National Park, with the mountain in the back. Rainier's visit last week was the first ever paid the mountain by a descendant of the famous English admiral.

Nanaimo and Courtenay. He has fished in many parts of the world. "But," he added, "I do more fishing than catching fish. But I do catch a fish once in a while."

Before he went to the mountain, Mr. Rainier took the trip up the West Coast on the Princess Norah to the northern part of the island and back to Victoria. He found the trip and the ship so enjoyable that he has written a poem, which begins:

"I would I were a boy again
On board the Princess Norah.
The poem which will be taken back to England, was inspired by watching a boy enjoying himself on the boat."

"The more I see of this country, the more I am convinced that it is a young man's country—a country for the young man," he said, referring to impressions gathered on this visit.

SHIPWRECKED AS BABY

Mr. Rainier was modest about his family, except to vouchsafe the information that they fled from France after the Edict of Nantes and settled in the south of England, where they changed the spelling of the name from "Regnier" to Rainier (accent on the first syllable on Mr. Rainier's own authority). Admiral Peter Rainier had a brother who was also an admiral, and this Admiral Rainier was J. L. Rainier's great-grandfather. His own father entered the army and served on the island of St. Helena, where Napoleon was imprisoned. Lieut. John Rainier, R.N., was disabled and had to retire from the navy through having lost a foot from frost bit suffered while swimming the Elbe with dispatches.

"The first Admiral Rainier never went in for books and kept no diary, thus bridged for Mr. Rainier the gap of generations.

Mr. Rainier's lines written on his west coast trip are:

LINES INSPIRED BY WATCHING A BOY ENJOYING HIMSELF ON THE SS. PRINCESS NORAH

I would I were a boy again
On board the Princess Norah,
Or else a speedy little girl
With a pinafore before her.

My Aunt: I'd have a lovely time
Just wading through the menu
Whereas, alas, I only eat
Sufficient to sustain you.

Just fancy starting off the day
With grapefruit and tomato
When oranges and pineapple
And prunes all play a part, too.

And follow on with scrambled eggs,
Sausage and breakfast bacon,
Lamb's kidneys too, though that's a thing
You might get tummy ache on.

And help them down with buttered toast
Hot rolls, oat cakes and muffins.
For at that age you seldom pay
The price you should for stuffin!

These go with grape fruit marmalade,
Black currant jam and honey.
It costs no more, you may as well
Get value for your money.

And then you run about and play,
And everybody damns you.
You must be pretty nippy or
Some gouty blighter slams you.

Then once again the bugle sounds,
Hooraay for lunch is ready.
And through its various courses then
Your jaws munch good and steady.

There's grapefruit cocktail, cream of peas
Hot bouillon and clam chowder,
Lamb chops, roast beef and ham and then
Eggs cooked in curry powder.

Deep apple pie, stewed figs and pears,
Jelly, compote of peaches,
And with ice cream the limit of
Your straining button reaches.

And then the ship begins to roll,
Poor wretched little slinger,
It all comes tumbling up—but then,
You're ready for your dinner.

J. L. RAINIER.

LITTLE WOLF TAKES MATCH

Defeats Andre Adoree in Wrestling Bout at Vancouver; Steinke in Draw

Vancouver, Aug. 2.—Chief Little Wolf, Oklahoma Indian, broke Andre Adoree's long string of victories yesterday evening when he took the odd one of three falls from the Montrealer in the main event on yesterday evening's wrestling card.

Little Wolf won the match in the fifth when the two met head-on in the ring and were knocked out, the Indian recovering first to pin Adoree's shoulders to the mat.

Little Wolf weighed 210, Adoree, 215.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis failed to show up for his scheduled semi-final bout with Pat O'Shocker, New York, and Hans Steinke, 250-pound German from Tacoma, was substituted. The pair went five rounds to a draw, with a fall each.

O'Shocker tipped the scales at 232.

BEER LICENSE ISSUE CLOSED

Liquor Board Will Not Re-open Question, Saanich Council Told

The granting of the beer license to premises formerly known as the J.E.A.A. clubhouse at the Gorge is now a closed question with the Liquor Control Board, and Saanich will not have its request to peruse communications in connection with the granting of the license.

This was the reply which the municipal council received from the Liquor Board yesterday evening following its protest of a few weeks ago against the granting of the license.

The board informed the council that in view of the fact that the license had been granted, it could see no reason for re-opening the issue. Reeve Crouch reiterated criticism of the granting of the license and said the feelings of Saanich should have been considered in view of the proximity of the beer parlor to the boundary.

STEVENS SPEAKS HERE SATURDAY

Announcement is made to-day that Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., LL.D., will speak at a public meeting in the City Temple, at 8 p.m., to-morrow.

Mr. Stevens will outline the platform and policy of the Reconstruction Party. Immediately following the public meeting, an organization meeting will be held.

SUNSHINE CAMP

for a most wonderful two weeks' holiday at the Sunshine Camp. It ended all too soon as there was no depression there. The food, bonfires and the hikes were one big delight to all, young and old, and the weather was good to us. So every hour was spent in the sunshine. The camp matrons were all we could wish her to be; the cook also, not forgetting the ever-ready attendants.

A MOTHER OF TWO

THANKS

To the Editor:—On behalf of the president and committee of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club I wish to extend to you our thanks for the publicity given in your paper to the events of the Canadian championship held at our club last week. The reports of all matches were a means of keeping up the interest in the tournament and I would be obliged if you would convey to your sports department our thanks for their work.

THE VICTORIA LAWN TENNIS CLUB
FRED A. JACKSON, Secretary.
August 1.

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—Before I leave your beautiful city I would like, through the medium of your paper, to express my appreciation of the fine work being done by you for the development of young people and I was particularly struck by the master of ceremonies, even if I cannot understand how he earned the title of "Slim." My only regret is that I shall be unable to be among those present from now on. I shall not forget to remind my friends, when I return home, that they would do well to pay Victoria a visit before the end of the summer. Hoping to visit you again next year.

FRANK BAXTER.

ISLAND DEVELOPMENT

To the Editor:—The letter in Monday's Times, re West Coast Road, interested me very much, as I lived on the West Coast for ten years and what it means to have mail and supplies only three times a month. During those ten years we hoped against hope for a road through to Sproat Lake, but in vain. Speaking of roads, may I here point out that the so-called West Coast Road to Port Renfrew is nothing whatever to do with the real West Coast Road which is so much in demand. The Port Renfrew road can never open up the West Coast north of Alberni, for one cannot get across Barclay Sound. The distance from Sproat Lake to Ucluelet is only about thirty-five miles, with very little bridging to be done. This road, apart from helping the settler and creating employment, would open up unsurpassed scenery. Beautiful though Victoria is, there is nothing to compare with the West Coast with hundreds of miles of inland water, islands, rivers and lakes, and a most marvellous chain of beaches, from Ucluelet to Tofino, Wreck Bay, seven miles; the famous Long Beach, fourteen miles long, of firm, hard sand, where one can motor along and hardly leave an imprint, one-quarter mile wide at low tide. Schooner Cove, False Bay, Chesterton's Bay, Mackenzie Bay and several other smaller ones, ending at Tofino, all on the real Pacific Ocean, with safe surf bathing, boating, fishing, shooting, etc. Then there is Kennedy Lake, the largest lake on the island, and the most beautiful spot, almost unknown. This could also be opened up by a Sproat Lake—Ucluelet road. I doubt if there is a place in British Columbia with so many attractions which the West Coast has to offer; yet it is left undeveloped for want of thirty-five miles

RATHER ROUGH ON THE ORGANIST!

Canadian Press Cable

London, Aug. 2.—The international organists' conference being held here was enlivened to-day by Prof. Collingwood of Saskatoon, who told of a notice he had seen outside a Canadian church. The subject of the sermon, "What Hell is Like," was followed by "Come hear our organ."

years ago, that: "While money is recognized as the standard of all other things, no nation can be governed either justly or happily. Nor justly, because the best things will fall to the share of the worst men; nor happily because all things being divided amongst a few, the rest will be left absolutely miserable.... As I balance these things in my mind, I grow more favorable to Plato who considered that the only way to make a nation happy was to submit to a community of property. For where every man draws to himself all that he can compass by one title or another, it must needs follow that how plentiful soever a nation may be yet a few dividing the wealth of it amongst themselves the rest must fall into indigence. As long as such property right is maintained, there can be no equitable and just distribution of things, nor can the world be happily governed. The greater, and by far the better part of

THE USE OF MONEY AND PRIVATE PROPERTY

To the Editor:—Considerable discussion has appeared in your columns of late regarding the proper function of money in a properly constituted community. Will you kindly allow me a short space to set forth the viewpoint, not of Messrs Lenin, Stalin, or even of the C.O.P. leaders in Canada, but of two of the greatest Englishmen that ever lived. Sir Thomas More, that great scholar, philosopher and statesman, who after a distinguished career as Treasurer and Speaker of the House of Commons, lost his head owing to the malice of that royal bluebeard, Henry VIII, for refusing to recognize the validity of the king's marriage with Anne Boleyn, declared more than 400 mankind will be oppressed with a load of cares and anxieties."

As to Shakespeare's opinion regarding politicians let me quote from Coriolanus: "They never cared for us yet. They suffer us to famish whilst their storehouses are crammed with grain; make edicts for usury to support usurers; repeal daily any wholesome act established against the rich, and provide more piercing statutes daily to restrain and chain up the poor. If the wars eat us not up, they will, and that's all the love they bear us." Evidently, Mr. Editor, these two great Englishmen seem to be agreed, and how modern and up-to-date they sound after four hundred years of time.

DAVID GRIEVE TUCKWELL.

Keen Battle Promised For Times Swim Honors To-morrow

THE SPORTS MIRROR

AFTER eight fruitless years in quest of the Davis Cup, which France took from the United States in 1927, the Americans are removed further than ever from a real prospect of recovering the famous tennis trophy. False hopes have been erected annually, only to come tumbling down. In the words of Alan Gould, famous sports editor of the Associated Press: "It's about time the U.S.A. dominant on the courts nearly a post-war decade, quit kidding itself, discarded alibis and faced the facts."

"The salient facts, in retrospect, are that since 1927 America has taken only four singles matches in six challenge round flings. Three of these were gained by Bill Tilden the other by Ellsworth Vines. England made a clean sweep of the singles this year and last. The United States has more tennis-playing talent, per capita, than any other nation."

"Why, with all this apparent opportunity and inspiration, can't the United States develop a team capable of picking up where Little Bill Johnson and Big Bill Tilden left off?"

"The answer seems two-fold: First, that no sustained, long-range Davis Cup plan of operations has been formulated; second, that America's class of top-flight players has proved erratic, unpredictable or too receptive to professional inducements. Instead of sticking to the development of a certain group of top-notch prospects, as Britain has done with Perry, Austin and Hughes, and France did so successfully with Lacoste, Cochet and Borotra, the United States has shifted or juggled its teams to keep pace with developments. The progress has involved headaches and recommitments."

If a confident captain is the keynote to success then Great Britain will retain the Ryder Cup in the professional international golf match which is to be played at Ridgewood, New Jersey, on September 28 and 29. Captain Charles Whitcombe, winner of scores of tournaments, and a member of Britain's team in each of the four previous Ryder Cup matches with the United States, is a keen judge of a golfer and an authority on the game. He means what he says, and this time he says: "Great Britain will win."

In an interview recently, Whitcombe made the following statement: "Of course, I am pleased to be captain, but I am not really surprised as I heard whispers some time ago, and the selectors asked my help in picking the team. I am glad they have confidence in me after the heavy defeat sustained at Scioto under my captaincy in 1931."

"The intense heat on that Ohio course, however, was fatal to our chances. It was impossible to play to form. This year, fortunately, we are playing in New Jersey in September and rain and snow are more likely than heat waves."

"For this reason alone I think we have a great chance of retaining the cup we won two years ago at Southport."

"A more important reason is that the new team, in my opinion, is definitely stronger than the 1933 side. I do not think a mistake has been made in the selection. Craig Wood, Horton Smith and Olin Dutra, and despite the unknown quantity represented by Laffoon and the others, I think we shall be too good for them."

"Cox, of Addington, is still an assistant, but he is ripe for full international rank, and will fight to the last putt. Burton and Jarman chose themselves on this season's form, and Bulson, as I have good reason to remember, is a fine match player. He beat me last September in the 'News of the World' final."

"Perry, Padgham and Alliss are comparatively old stagers, and were in the Southport team."

"I have not formed any ideas as to forecloses pairings or tactics yet. It is too early, but I hope to get the players together once or twice before we sail. I want to make them a happy family, for success in this match depends, to a great extent, on the absence of friction."

"I have very definite views about training and diet. I have always considered it inadvisable to lay down rigid rules for training and diet in the case of a team of golfers, who each possess a different physique and temperament. It is different with boxers and athletes."

"Each man should use his own judgment. What is suitable for me, for instance, would probably be unsuitable for young Cox. If a man

ELEVEN TO SEEK PRIZED TROPHY IN LONG GRIND

Bobby Mathewson, Denny Walker, Bette Barnhart and Eleanor Peden Favored

EVENT TO START AT 2.30 O'CLOCK

In a field which promises one of the most wide open races since the inception of the event in pre-war days, four swimmers, two men and two girls, were slightly favored in the odds to-day for The Times through Victoria swim from the Gorge to the Causeway to-morrow afternoon.

The distance grind is scheduled to start from the James Bay Athletic Association float at 2.30 o'clock, and the first finishers should reach the city float in the Inner Harbor around 3.45 or 4 o'clock.

Those who are conceded the greatest chances of taking the laurels are Bobby Mathewson, young Gonzales Bay boy, who outdistanced a contingent of experienced performers to win last year, Denny Walker, Navy and Y.M.C.A. performer, who has won the event in previous years; Bette Barnhart, Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club's challenger, who finished second last year, and Eleanor Peden, Pacific Swimming Club star who took fourth laurels in the 1934 swim.

ENTRY LIST

The complete entry list to date follows:

Bobby Mathewson, Pacific Swimming Club.
Bette Barnhart, Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club.
Eleanor Peden, Pacific Swimming Club.
Kenneth W. Campbell, Y.M.C.A.
Molly White, Pacific Swimming Club.
Steve Dubrovich, Nansaimo Oyro Club.
Audrey Adam, Nansaimo and Victoria Y.M.C.A.
Margaret Dewhurst, Victoria Y.M.C.A.
Bob Lawrence, Pacific Swimming Club.
Bill Jennings, Canadian Navy.
Denny Walker, Canadian Navy and Y.M.C.A.
Bobby Smirl, coming young Y.M.C.A. performer, who was considered a good challenger, has been forced to withdraw from the list owing to doctor's orders. Smirl suffered a severe attack of pleurisy a short time ago and his physician considers it unwise for him to attempt the long grind.

Of the seven who finished in the 1934 test, four have entered again this year. Audrey Adam, diminutive Y.M.C.A. performer, being the other.

FAVORED

According to training reports, Mathewson and Walker should be the boys to watch, with a possible challenge from Bette Barnhart and Eleanor Peden. Walker and Mathewson have not raced over the long grind against one another. Whether or not he can stand the pace the younger boy may set will be determined as they forge their ways down the chilly waters.

Little is known of the ability of Steve Dubrovich, Nansaimo contender, or Kenneth Campbell one of the youngsters of the swim. They may prove dark horses, but they will have to show outstanding ability to oust the favorites.

Spectators will be able to see the progress of the race from various points of vantage along the course, from bridges over the arm and wharves near the harbor.

Two Tacoma Women Gain Golf Final

Seattle, Aug. 2.—Two Tacomas were to meet to-day for the Washington State women's public links golf title over a thirty-six-hole route, at the Jackson Park course.

Mrs. Dewey Bush, defending her two-year-old title, must meet her Allenmore club teammate, Mrs. George J. Johnson.

Mrs. Bush defeated Mrs. Rollin Hurd of Aberdeen, 5 and 4, in yesterday's eighteen-hole semi-finals. Mrs. Johnson eliminated Miss Ruth Canale, Tacoma, state junior girls champion, 2 and 1.

"has become a good tournament golfer he has come to know enough about his own requirements without needing any help from me."

Jericho Club Will Withdraw

Vancouver, Aug. 2.—The Jericho Tennis Club of Vancouver has decided to withdraw from the Pacific Northwest Lawn Tennis Association and the action will be discussed at the association's meeting at Tacoma, Wash., on Monday.

President Harold McLean of the Jericho Club has written to the association, announcing the club's intention. The Jericho Club, which has annually staged the British Columbia clay courts championship tournament, plans to conduct an annual open tournament in future and to invite leading Canadian and United States players to compete.

A.A.U. TO GIVE ATHLETES BREAK

Edmonton, Aug. 2.—Amateur athletes, barred because of a sojourn into moneyed ranks, will get a little better consideration from officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada when seeking reinstatement, according to an announcement made here yesterday evening by John Leslie, secretary of the A.A.U. of C.

When an amateur is deprived of his amateur standing because of playing with or against professionals, he automatically is barred for three years. Previously only at annual meetings could reinstatement be made. Now in the event of a player's three-year period is up, say on November 1, and the amateur meeting is not until January or later, the president and chairman of the registration committee can reinstate the offender, provided applications and recommendations are in proper order.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

A free railroad is operated in the Fiji Islands, open to all who care to ride. The line runs between Lautoka and Ba, about thirty miles, and is maintained by a sugar refining company chiefly to carry cane from the fields to the mills—but non-paying passengers are welcome. The railroad also give service to its free passengers, even to arranging its schedule to connect with steamer service for the convenience of people disembarking at Lautoka and bound for Ba.

The first postage stamp ever issued, as we know postage stamps now, was printed in England in 1840. It was a rectangular stamp, gummed on the back, and printed with the denomination and a likeness of Queen Victoria on the front.

Strange as it seems, although this stamp is of interest to stamp collectors they do not prize it highly. You can buy one for $1.50 or thereabouts. Stamps of more recent issue, the rareness of which boosts their value, may cost as much as $40,000 each.

Tadeusz Kosciuszko, Polish patriot, enlisted in the American revolution, any cause in 1776. Noteworthy was his strategy at Bemis Heights was Saratoga, and his part in the fortification of West Point. He is remembered as a national hero in Poland for his leadership in the campaign against invading Russians in the 1790's.

STATE GOLF SEES UPSETS

Leading Seattle Players Eliminated in Washington State Amateur Tourney

Bellingham, Wash., Aug. 2.—The fight for the Washington State amateur golf championship was between Olympia, Chehalis, Bellingham and Seattle to-day with a new and somewhat unfamiliar group monopolizing the closing play of the competition.

Bud Ward, Olympia, and Leslie Leal, Bellingham, were considered the leading contenders for the title vacated by Johnny Shields, Seattle, following the elimination of six other Seattle "hot shots" yesterday, but the fate of the draw placed them in the same bracket. Victorious in their morning matches to-day, they would have to meet each other in the afternoon.

Seattle's "big six"—Dick Haskell, Ralph Whaley, Ed Greenwood, Sherman Elworthy, Paul Murphy and Bill Kinkeith—failed to last through yesterday's two eighteen-hole rounds against the comparative unknowns.

The eight survivors were Marion Keyes, Clint McBeath and Leal, Bellingham; Warren Priem, James Clapp and Carl Johnson, Seattle; Harold West, Chehalis, and Ward, Olympia.

The draw for the quarter finals was: Keyes vs. Priem; Clapp vs. Johnson; Leal vs. McBeath and Ward vs. West.

New York, Aug. 2.—After eight months in Hollywood's film colony, Frank Shields is back in the east for the tennis war, and he hopes, a higher national ranking.

The former head man of the nation's "first ten" is entered in the eastern grass court championships starting to-morrow at the Westchester Country Club, seeded No. 3 after Sidney Wood and Young Frank Parker. After that he will play in the national championships.

Alabama Pitts May Be Farmed

Albany, N.Y., Aug. 2 (Associated Press).—Edwin C. (Alabama) Pitts who entered minor league baseball from Sing Sing's gates in the midst of a furore heard round the baseball world, may find himself playing the outfield for Harrisburg in the New York-Pennsylvania League next season.

Reports have been current the husky twenty-four-year-old Alabama, whose .317 batting average for Albany Senators of the International League has been nothing to write home about, will be farmed out for further seasoning at the end of the current year.

TILlicums TO OPPOSE EAGLES

Leading Baseball Clubs Meet To-night; Indians to Play All-star Team To-morrow

Eagles, undefeated leaders in the Victoria senior baseball pennant chase, will this evening stack up against the Tillicums nine, who will march a strong squad onto the field to oppose the leaders at the Athletic Park at 6 o'clock.

The birdmen will have their ace hurler, Lorne Murray, on the mound, and Henry Woodford will be at the receiving end.

It is expected that Lloyd Jones will do the heavy work for the Tillicums with Holmes behind the plate.

Victoria Indians, undefeated baseball squad, will battle against an all-star aggregation chosen from the local league at the Athletic Park to-morrow night at 6 o'clock. The reserve squad so far this season have displayed fine form, with five successive victories to their credit, and are confident of adding the all-stars' scalps to their list.

Canadian Bowlers To Tour Britain

Toronto, Aug. 2.—The Canadian Lawn Bowling Council received an invitation for a three-months' tour of the British Isles in 1936 by Canadian bowlers, W. B. Cowan, K.C., honorary secretary of the council announced yesterday. The invitation came from the secretary of the International Bowling Board.

The council took steps toward organization of a team. The tour would be the first since 1924.

The council appointed: A. Langford of 174 King Street, London, Ont., as organizer of the tour; J. J. bowlers throughout Canada will soon be given an opportunity to file applications for a place on the team.

Silent Glows Win Play-off Opener

McKechnie May Be President

Paston, Aug. 2.—The name of Manager Bill McKechnie was heard most often to-day as fans discussed a successor to Emil Fuchs as president of the Boston Braves. McKechnie took his team on the road yesterday evening pleading complete ignorance of the possibility of his becoming nominal director in the front office as well as actual leader on the field.

"I will do as I am ordered," McKechnie said as he started on the two weeks' road trip.

Charles F. Adams, now in full control of the Braves, kept silent on future plans.

Burnermen Defeat Brunsdon's Boys 5 to 2 in First of Three Out of Five-game Series For City Laurels; Other Results

One run in the first, three in the fourth and another in the seventh innings brought Silent Glows through to a 5 to 2 victory in the first of the three-out-of-five-game series for the A section city softball laurels at the Athletic Park yesterday evening. The burnermen made the best of errors by Brunsden's Boys to chalk up the win.

The squads will meet in their second encounter Tuesday, following knockout games on Monday evening.

With two away in the fourth, Youson, Brunsden's shortstop, muffed a ground drive to let the Glows load the bases. The next two batters singled, scoring one and two runners respectively as the burnermen put three more runs to their first-inning tally to lead 4 to 0.

Bill Levy gave the Glows their fifth tally when he smacked a homer to centre field.

RALLY FALLS SHORT

Brunsden started a rally in the ninth as Jackie smacked out a double to score two runs after two men had gone down. The game ended when "Chuck" Turner held a drive that caught him in the groin for the third out.

Brunsden gained nine hits from Chuck Turner, while the Silent Glows collected five safeties from "Red" Palmer.

Score by innings:
Silent Glows ..... 1 0 0 3 0 0 1 2
Batteries — "Red" Palmer and "Gaby" Dunnett; "Chuck" Turner and Larry Kennedy.

KNOCKOUT GAMES

At Central Park lower diamond, Civic Staff were carried to ten innings before scoring a 10 to 9 victory over the R. & T. Workers in a Calvert Cup knockout fixture. At the upper diamond, Krages defeated the Hudson's Bay, 14 to 8 in another Calvert Cup game.

Young Liberals journeyed to North Saanich, only to suffer a 23 to 10 setback at the hands of the Saanichion nine in a Calvert Cup tussle.

James Island won by default from Spencers in a Fuddle Dog Cafe Cup fixture, when the departmentals failed to put in an appearance at Victoria West Park. At Memorial Park, Maple Leafs defaulted to Painter's Bruins.

Togo Cleaners, junior softball nine, doubled the score on Schmil's Machine when they checked in with 4 12 to 6 victory at Victoria West Park.

Harris's Cyclotles won by default from the Canucks, and Strawberry Vale gained two points by the same route when Oak Bay failed to put in an appearance for their scheduled league fixture.

SOCCER TEAMS RESUME SOON

Elevens in Scottish Football Association Open Season on August 10

Glasgow, Scotland, Aug. 2.—With Arbroath and Third Lanark welcomed to first division status, the 1935-36 Scottish soccer season will be ushered in August 10. Arbroath is playing for the first time in senior company, but top-notch football is nothing new to Third Lanark.

St. Mirren and Falkirk were the unlucky clubs who will play this year in the second division.

Arbroath is up against a tough proposition in its first match, being scheduled to play Rangers, champions and cup-holders, at Thros Park. Third Lanark is away to St. Johnstone.

The first division schedule for August 10 follows:
Aberdeen vs. Celtic.
St. Johnstone vs. Third Lanark.
Aberdeen vs. Dundee.
Rangers vs. Airdrieonians.
Queen's Park vs. Ayr United.
Kilmarnock vs. Motherwell.
Hearts vs. Patrick Thistle.

Detroit Tigers Increase Lead In American Baseball League

Defeat St. Louis With Yanks Idle; Cubs Lose Ground

Last Named Beaten By Pittsburgh in National; Giants Have Day of Rest

SEATTLE WINNER IN COAST LOOP

It is not often that baseball pennant races in successive years so closely resemble each other as the Detroit Tigers-New York Yankees' scrap for 1935 honors in the American League compares with their battle last year.

Just a year ago Mickey Cochrane's rampaging Tigers chalked up victory number two on a fourteen-game winning streak that left the Yanks far behind and practically assured them the pennant. To-day they were in the same position with their last two games recorded in the victory column.

On August 3, 1934 both teams had dropped thirty-seven games, the same number of setbacks they have received this season. Tigers, having played more games, however, held a three and one-half game lead to-day compared to only one game a year ago.

WIDEN GAP

Tigers widened the gap yesterday by turning back the last place St. Louis Browns 6 to 3 while their rivals were kept idle by the schedule.

The third place Chicago White Sox missed an opportunity to tie the Yanks for second place by falling before the Cleveland Indians 8 to 3. Indians collected fourteen hits off Carl Fischer and Johnny Salvo.

Earl Whitehill scored his ninth triumph of the season as he pitched Washington Senators to a 9 to 5 victory over Boston Red Sox. Rudy Myers' homer and two singles were big factors in the Senators' attack.

Competition in the National League saw Pittsburgh Pirates come to the aid of the faltering New York Giants by trimming the threatening Chicago Cubs 6 to 5. The defeat dropped Cubs a full game back of Giants who were idle.

Dixie Dean failed to go the route but he received credit for his seventh victory of the season as St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds battled through a game played with the temperature at ninety-five degrees with St. Louis winning 7 to 5.

In the only other National League contest, Tom Zachary was a little more effective in the pinches than Ben Cantwell as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Boston Braves 4 to 2.

COAST LEAGUE

The bitter battle of Hollywood and Sacramento for last place in the Coast League is a little tighter to-day since the Sacs successfully lost to Portland, while the best the Stars could do was win from the Missions. Both clubs are sleeping in the same bunk in the cellar while all the other teams are five or more games ahead with averages of .50 or better.

Portland took the third straight from Sacramento, 7 to 5, to pull up into fourth place.

Joe di Maggio poked out his twenty-seventh homer of the season to give San Francisco the winning margin as the Sacs' left Los Angeles, 5 to 3. Gene Lillard, Angel outfielder and home run king of the league added the thirty-eighth four-bagger to his list.

Bill Lawrence and Dick Gyselman, Seattle big stick men, each collected a four-bagger from Ken Douglas to enable the tribe to defeat Oakland 8 to 2.

Herman Pilleite, Hollywood's veteran right hander, stopped the Missions' winning streak by beating Walter Beck, on horse of the Reds 4 to 3.

PARKS-LAFFOON IN GREAT WIN

Defeat Hagen and Watrous in $4,600 Inverness Two-man Team Golf Play

Toledo, O., Aug. 2.—A mad scramble for the $4,600 pot of gold offered in the two-man team best-ball round robin, Inverness Invitational golf tournament was on tap to-day as a group of top-notch professionals opened the second round of the match play.

Sam Parks, United States open champion, paired with Ky Lafoon yesterday to gain a 2 up victory over Walter Hagen and Al Watrous. Ohio's great burke, Al Espinosa, Akron, and Billy Burke, Cleveland, won by the same margin over Vic Ghezzi and Denny Shute.

This morning the two winning teams teed off against each other for an eighteen-hole match, while the two losers in yesterday's matches also hooked up.

At the end of each match—and each seven pairs before the finish Sunday afternoon—the winners are credited with as many holes as they are ahead of the losers, while the defeated pair subtracts the same number from its point total. The team with the biggest total at the finish will take down the lion's share of the $4,600.

Archers to Hold Picnic on Sunday

The Victoria Archery Society will hold its first annual picnic at Kill-borne, Lake on Sunday. It will be a family basket picnic and all archers and their families are invited to attend. Members are requested to take along their bows and old arrows.

Complete Play In Women's Doubles

Play in the Stanley Cup competition, open to women's doubles, was concluded yesterday at the Victoria West greens, with the following results: 1. Mrs. Mowat and Mrs. Play-fair, Burnside; 2. Mrs. Read and Mrs. Willie, Victoria; 3. Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Plude, Victoria-West; 4. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. McDougall, Canadian Pacific.

GOLF CHAMP IS DEFEATED

Dave Mitchell, Indianapolis, Eliminated From U.S. Public Links Event

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—The gates flew open yesterday for a wild dark horse rush in the national public links golf championship, as a quartette of comparatively long shots from coast to coast dashed past last year's champion and runner-up, to enter the semi-finals.

When the balls stopped flying over the championship, Coffin—course in yesterday's twelve matches, Dave Mitchell, defending titleholder from Indianapolis, and Arthur Armstrong, Honolulu, 1934 runner-up, were out; while Joe Coria, St. Paul, picnic grounds; Bill Russell, Indianapolis youngster; Frank Stafaci, Brooklyn High School student, and Robert Tomes, Long Beach, Cal., the "pappy" of the tournament, remained in the show.

Coria, a blond of twenty-four, who patrols the Highland Park picnic grounds in St. Paul, got his man twice yesterday, defeating Lieut. Ken Rogers, army flier from San Antonio, Texas, 2 and 1. In the morning, and hand-cuffing Wesley Casper, Louisville, 5 and 3, in the afternoon.

To-day, Coria was to oppose Russell and Stafaci in a match over thirty-six holes, eighteen morning and afternoon.

HOME BOY WINS

With Mitchell eliminated by Charles A. Mandoles, Staten Island, N.Y., machinist's helper, 2 up, Russell, Indianapolis City public links champion, gave the home folks a thrill by sticking in the battle. He defeated Earl Thomas, Richmond (Ind.) factory worker, 1 up, and then returned to defeat Mike Stefanchik, Gary steel worker, 5 and 3. Russell was eight over par for thirty-three holes.

Stafaci was only two over par for thirty-one holes on his jaunt, eliminating Bruce McCormick, Los Angeles, 2 up, and Armandoles, 5 and 4, finishing the Armandoles match with four consecutive par holes.

Tomes, an unorthodox swinger with a streak of grey through his hair, was the man who polished off Armstrong, who had traveled 6,000 miles for the second year to be stopped in the championship rush. He eliminated John Madara, Philadelphia, 2 and 2, and took Armstrong in stride 5 and 3, winning five of the six incoming holes with birdies and pars.

Led by Lieut. Rogers, San Antonio captured the Warren O. Harding Cup, emblem of national public links team supremacy, in a play-off against Louisville.

NICHOLS IS STAR IN WIN

Bowls and Bats Essex to Cricket Victory Over Leading Yorkshire Team

London, Aug. 2.—Two games were concluded yesterday in first class cricket, Yorkshire, far out in front in the county championship competition, lost ground when Essex, through spectacular bowling by Morris Nichols and H. D. Read, toppled the much-touted Northerners for 31 and 99 runs to win by an innings and 304. Essex scored 334.

It was a great day for Nichols. Not content with capturing eleven wickets for 84 runs, he knuckled out 146 runs for his county. Read took six for 11.

In the other games the South Africans defeated Surrey by an innings and 205 runs. The tourists amassed 572 runs. Bruce Mitchell getting 185, E. A. B. Bowen 171 and Eric Dalton 88. Surrey's scores were 163 and 184. The game was played at The Oval.

Campbell Will Make Auto Speed Attempt

Famous British Driver, and Holder of World Land Speed Record, Will Sail For United States August 21; Will Make Run on Utah Salt Flats

London, Aug. 2.—Barring a serious hitch in present plans, Sir Malcolm Campbell will sail August 21 for the United States and attempt to boost his own world automobile speed record on Utah's salt flats.

Sir Malcolm and his huge racer, Bluebird, with which he established the present land record of 276.18 miles per hour at Daytona Beach, Fla., early this year, will make the transatlantic crossing on the liner Majestic.

Sailing at the same time will be another British racing pilot, Captain George Eyston, who plans an assault on all long distance records with a new car capable of 500 miles an hour.

The recent successful record attempts of still another British sportsman, John Cobb, coupled with Cobb's glowing tribute to the Bonneville salt flats course influenced Sir Malcolm to speed up his preparations for a new record attempt.

To-day Sir Malcolm said: "I feel sure I will beat 300 miles an hour without any trouble."

Captain Eyston, who is credited with setting over 300 records for various distances since 1926, will pilot a new front-drive monster powered with a 400-horsepower Rolls Royce air engine. Two twenty-three-gallon tanks give it a 500-mile range.

NEW FOLDERS ARE PRINTED

Publicity Bureau Brings Out Fine New Victoria and Island Edition

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has just brought out a new edition of its striking pictorial four-page letterhead.

This letterhead, which is really a descriptive folder, is most important as it is the first piece of Victoria literature to reach the prospective visitor or resident.

It is printed in two colors, the front page being left blank for the letter, inside pages and the last page being devoted to pictures of outstanding scenery and printed information regarding the city and Vancouver Island.

The bureau has managed to give in condensed form an immense amount of definite information in this folder. Facts picked at random from the folder are:

The length of Vancouver Island is 202 miles, and varies in width from fifty to sixty miles; highest temperature during the last five years was 87 degrees and the lowest 23 degrees; the average rate of bright sunshine per day is six hours; the rainfall is just over twenty-seven inches; the only high-grade bituminous coal fields on the Pacific Coast are on Vancouver Island; the highest grade fruits in western Canada are grown on the island; golf is played every day throughout the year; Victoria has no municipal income or personal property taxes.

Across the two centre pages there is a fine reproduction of photographs. These include pictures of: Union Club, Cathedral Grove, salmon fishermen, Butchart's gardens, Campbell River falls, golf in Oak Bay, Cowichan Valley farm, big observatory on Little Saanich mountain, the view from Mount Tolmie, canoeing down the Cowichan River, Saanich bulb farm, Hatley Park, Forbidden Plateau, view from the Malahat, Mount Elkhorn, trout fishing, the whole dominated by a panoramic picture of the Inner Harbor of Victoria, showing the Empress Hotel, British Columbia Parliament Buildings and the famous Princess ferry steamers.

A fine map of Vancouver Island with the chief roads leading to island resorts marked in bold black as far as Campbell Lake, takes up a large proportion of the back page, also the chief roads leading from Vancouver to Oregon are shown.

The present issue makes a total of 100,000 of these letterheads published this year.

Frisco Pioneer
 Back From South

Construction progress on the great new bridges at San Francisco is running eight months ahead of schedule, according to Frank Aylin, 625 Elliott Street, California pioneer, who returned yesterday evening on the Alexander liner from a month's visit in the south.

Mr. Aylin visited many of the places he first knew in the '80s and contrasted the difference of what he saw now with what there was in those days. He said he again went swimming at Alameda, in the same spot where he used to take to the water on hot days, just fifty years ago.

There is lots of activity in the south now, Mr. Aylin said, but merchants told him that the potential buying public was short of money. Travel volume on all sides, however, is enormous, he said.

CITY MAY USE BLANKET PLAN

New Insurance Scheme For All Civic-owned Structures Considered

As a preliminary to consideration of a new insurance scheme for city improved property, officials of the treasury department to-day sent to the appraisers, Luney Bros. Ltd., and Parfitt Bros. Ltd., a complete listing of all city-owned improvements, for a revaluation.

When the appraisers have covered the buildings they will bring in their estimate of values. The city will then discuss the advisability of grouping all holdings under one blanket insurance scheme, which would give 90 per cent coverage on a co-insurance basis.

The finance committee was of the opinion the city would get more coverage at the same premiums, or less, than the private insurance companies. D. A. Macdonald, comptroller-treasurer, stated when asked about the matter.

FORMER POLICY

Formerly the city has allowed certain buildings, either considered too old to bother with insurance, or else too fireproof to merit attention, to go without any insurance. Under the new plan, it was understood, they would be included. In view of the fact premiums on fireproof structures would be exceptionally low, their inclusion in the entire group would naturally bring down the rate on such structures for which high premiums were charged. At the same time greater coverage would be secured at a rate commensurately lower, owing to the size of the subjects which came under it.

At present there are about 150 policies issued on various city properties, about ninety of which cover the more important buildings. The appraisal survey will take some time to complete, it was understood. The co-insurance policy has been adopted by the city school boards on structures under its jurisdiction.

WIN TEST CASE ON HOLIDAY ACT

Bertram Brown, who was arraigned before Magistrate Jay in a test case on the Wednesday Half-holiday Act this morning, won his case when the magistrate dismissed the prosecution.

Mr. Brown operates the Ogden Point Market which has trades licenses for meat, groceries and a confectionery business. In the defence, conducted by Frank Higgins, K.C., statements were submitted which showed Mr. Brown's chief business was that of a confectioner.

This being the case Magistrate Jay decided the store was classified under the exceptions to the Half-holiday Act.

PHILADELPHIA MINISTER HERE

Rev. Dr. L. G. Morris of the Calvary Episcopal Church at Germantown, Pa., is visiting the city on holiday with Mrs. Morris.

After a short stay at the Empress Hotel they will leave for Lake Louise and Banff en route east via the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Dr. Morris knows the Pacific Coast well, having held the ministry at St. John's Church in Los Angeles twenty years ago, but this is the first time that he and his wife have been to the Pacific Northwest.

They are both charmed with Victoria and hope to return.

BAG LIMITS ARE FIXED

Bag limits on migratory game birds were announced by the provincial government to-day for the coming season.

In the western district the limit on ducks between October 19 and November 30 is fixed as twenty per day with not more than three wood ducks. For the rest of the season the limit is fifteen per day and the total for the season 150.

On other migratory birds the limits are: Geese, ten in a day and fifty in the season; black brant, ten and fifty; Wilson snipe, twenty-five and 150; coots, twenty-five and 150; band-tailed pigeons, ten and fifty.

SUMMER SCHOOL PICNIC BILLED

Student-teachers of the Summer School will journey to Elk Lake for their annual picnic to-morrow, it was announced to-day by John Kyle, director of the school.

They will leave Victoria by bus from the Public Library at 10 o'clock in the morning and will enjoy a full day at the popular holiday grounds.

Luncheon and supper will be served and a fine programme of land and water sports as well as other contests, including a school yell competition, will round out the activities of the day.

The pipe band of the First Battalion, the Canadian Scottish Regiment, and four officers of the regiment left for Vancouver to-day to attend the funeral of Lieut.-Colonel R. W. Brock. The officers are Colonel Roy Sargent, Lieut.-Colonel J. R. Kingham, Lieut. W. Parker and Lieut. J. Rockingham. Following the funeral, the pipe band will compete in the St. Andrews and Caledonian games.

Admiral Reeves to-day notified Mayor David Leeming the ship would be over for the celebrations. The officers and men will take part in the lengthy programme arranged for the event.

Building Delay Worries Party

Start of Wharf Street Structure Had Been Counted on Aiding Election

Much concern was felt in Conservative organization circles here to-day following the arrival of news that work on Victoria's new $200,000 Federal Building, planned to rise, eight stories from the Wharf Street shore of the Inner Harbor, would not get under way for about two months.

Unforeseen technical difficulties in connection with preliminary arrangements were said to be the cause of the delay.

The news came as a disappointment in organization circles as there had been assurances that commencement of actual work, which had been delayed since the announcement of the building upwards of a year ago, would be under way with full crews of employees and contracts let by at least a week or two before election day.

A two-months' delay now, it was explained, meant there would be no start of construction until after the election, which is expected during the latter half of September.

PLUNKETT SUPPORTERS WORRIED

Supporters of the retiring Victoria member, D. B. Plunkett found the news of the delay was unfortunate, as before the entry of Hugh Allan, the fact that a big building, involving the letting of many contracts was underway would be a factor in emphasizing Mr. Plunkett's efforts for his constituency and claim for re-nomination.

C.C.F. MEN NAMED DELEGATES

Another disturbing development in connection with the convention was the discovery that some of those named as delegates from the Conservative Party ward organizations were no longer members or supporters of the party.

For instance, one of the delegates put on the list from Ward One, when asked to-day, said:

"Yes, I am down as a Conservative and delegate to the convention, and I suppose I may go up with the rest to see if there is any fun, but I'm voting C.C.F."

COL PECK HEARD FROM

Another disturbing factor to-day was the announcement following his return from Vancouver that Col. Cy Peck, V.C., planned to enter the campaign in the Victoria riding. He was emphatic in his intimation that it would be as an anti-Bennett government candidate that he would enter the field.

This news about Col. Peck, accompanied as it was by the news of the defection to the Harry Stevens' Reconstruction organization of a group of old-time workers in the Conservative ranks, came as a surprise.

Peck had sat in both the B.C. Legislature and the Dominion House of Commons as a Conservative, and had been appointed by the Conservative government to the pension tribunal.

Mrs. T. O. Griffin Passes Away

In the presence of many sorrowing friends, including a delegation from the Victoria Fire Department, funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Annie Davis, wife of Thos. V. Davis, former fire chief of Victoria, who passed away at her home in Vancouver.

Dean Quinlan conducted the services, during which the hymns "Lead in the Arms of Jesus" and "Lead, Kindly Light" were sung. Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the widespread esteem in which the late Mrs. Davis was held.

The following were the pallbearers: W. O. Martin, E. C. Clime, H. Sherman, O. W. Tindall, Albert Hewison and F. Briers. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Rose Bay Cemetery.

POLICE VIGIL IS DESCRIBED

Seven-hour Watch Preceded Arrest in Cameron Robbery, Court Told

A seven-hour vigil by city police over a cash safe in the bushes on Tolmie Avenue, near the brickyard, which resulted in the arrest of John M. Caird and George Bernard, was described to the City Police Court this morning during the hearing of the pair on a charge of possession of stolen property valued at $6,000.

Caird and Bernard were committed for trial by Magistrate Jay after detectives had told of the arrest while they were carrying the safe from its hiding place.

The safe, owned by D. O. Cameron, 332 George Road, contained jewelry and personal belongings valued at $6,000, and was stolen from the house on the night of July 13. The accused were arrested by Detectives P. Woodburn and J. H. Rogers on the evening of July 14.

Detective Woodburn gave principal evidence for the prosecution. While investigating the break-in of the Cameron home he had received certain information from a source he did not reveal, as a result of which he started a watch over the cashed safe near the brickyard at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Sunday, July 14.

He was about 300 yards from the cache, he testified, and after he had been there about fifteen or twenty minutes he saw three men drive up in a small truck. Two men, dressed similarly to the accused, got out and walked towards the safe. They were later joined by the third. After looking around for a while they drove away.

Detective Woodburn watched the safe until 6 o'clock when he was rejoined by Detective Rogers, with Constables S. McKenzie and A. Briggs. The four took up advantageous positions to await developments.

About 9:45 o'clock Detective Woodburn saw two men walking towards the safe. After standing near a few moments they walked down behind some bushes in the brickyard to await while three pedestrians on Tolmie Avenue passed. Then they returned and started carrying the safe away in a sack.

"I then got into a position where I could stop them," Detective Woodburn said. "They had the safe in a sack and were carrying it along Oak Street. I walked out with my gun in my hand and told them to stick their hands up. Caird said 'this is a h—' of a thing to do when a fellow is being stopped and is taking it to the police station." I arrested them, and, with Detective Rogers, who came up from behind them, took them to the station."

To O. J. Boulton, counsel for Caird, Detective Woodburn said he did not actually see the safe being moved. Bernard, conducting his own defence, centred cross-examination around the "up-off" which the detective got, but could only learn it was verbal information which the detective received about 1 o'clock the day following the robbery.

DISCOVERED ENTRY

Helen Carlou, 408 John Street, maid in the Cameron household, told of arriving home shortly after midnight on the night of the robbery and finding the house ransacked. She awakened Newton Cameron, Mr. Cameron's son, and they investigated, after which police were notified.

The name of Pat Howard, who is now awaiting trial charged with possession of large quantities of goods stolen from the J. H. Malkin Company warehouse here early this year, was introduced into the case in cross-examination of Miss Carlou by Mr. Boulton.

Miss Carlou stated a man whom she had later identified as Howard, went to the Cameron house on the afternoon preceding the robbery, and inquired whether some people named Cameron resided there. She had stated they did not and after consulting the telephone directory and obtaining the address, he had left, she testified.

D. O. Cameron, who was away at the time of the break-in, testified the safe was kept in a narrow closet in Mrs. Cameron's bedroom and was usually covered with clothing. The contents were valued at $6,000, he said. Several other articles, also stolen, were not recovered.

Constables McKenzie and Briggs also gave evidence of the police vigil at the scene of the cashed safe.

Control of Abandoned Property Proposed

The rights of the government, in regard to abandoned mining property are under scrutiny in provincial circles, under focus of the closure at Anxox this week.

In some opinion it is claimed the government should have power to take over property and arrange for development of it by others. At Anxox, it is claimed, there are still ore reserves left which could be taken out and the plant kept working for a year and a half.

The immediate problem created by the Anxox closure, the labor situation, is being met through the department of labor, it was learned. Employment officers are at work contacting other sections of the mining industry in an effort to see that as many as possible of those thrown out of work can be absorbed.

ORGANIST'S FUNERAL TO-MORROW

Says Holding A Husband Takes Effort

A CHILD thinks about marrying pretty much as a man thinks about retiring from business, asking to a place where one has achieved one's objective, where one has secured a livelihood and where one can sit down and rest and take things easily.

She thinks that she will no longer have to wear herself out weaving spells about a man that she has already caught; that she will not have to primp and powder and paint and doli herself up so that she will look good to a mere husband; that she will not have to flutter and cajole him and labor overtime, as she did in the days of courtship, to keep him interested and amused. In short, she looks upon marriage as sort of Elysium in which a woman can throw all her tricks out of the window, and eat all she wants to and let out her coarsest strings and discard all tact and subtlety and just let Nature take its course.

This mistaken theory concerning the privileges and emoluments of matrimony is one of the main reasons why there are so many wives beating their breasts over husbands who are lost, strayed or stolen, and why there are so many divorces. For catching a husband is easy enough. Holding him is the thing that takes perpetual vigilance and keeping on the job. And so those ladies who hold to the faith that marriage gives them the right to slump are headed for much grief.

It is the greatest pity in the world that women do not realize that marriage should not be the end but the beginning of a woman's attractiveness, and that she should put forth a thousandfold more effort to be fascinating to her husband than she was to her suitor. For to lose one's sweetheart is merely a temporary inconvenience, while to lose a husband means a wrecked home, a broken heart and half-orphaned little children.

In all good truth marriage is the turning point of every woman's life. It is then that she begins either to peter out or to make something of herself. Up to then she has had the freshness and beauty and allure of youth. She has had the animal gaiety, the high spirits, the playfulness that make all young things seem sprightly and intelligent. Well, these charms will soon go and then a wife has to decide what sort of show she is going to put on for her husband for the balance of their lives, whether she will give a performance that will keep him giving her the glad hand, or one that he will run out on.

Of course, every woman in her senses knows that by no miracle can she keep herself always young and beautiful, no matter how many facials and permanents she has, but every woman can keep herself easy on the eyes if she is well dressed and well groomed. Some wit has said that the secret of the sirens' power was that they spent their private lives in scrubbing their elbows, and certainly no woman lacks charm whose personal appearance is immaculate. The homely women are the slovens whose hair is never combed, whose frocks never fit, and who look as if they need to be run through the laundry.

Every woman when she gets married decides for herself whether she is going to degenerate into a bore, or keep herself interesting. She decides whether her husband will get tired of her and lose his taste for her or not. There are plenty of women who, as soon as they are married, give up whatever accomplishments they have had. They never touch the piano again or sing any more. They never read a new book or even the newspapers. They give up their clubs and drop out of society. They never have a new thought or a fresh idea and they get as dull as dish water.

It is no wonder that the wives who make no effort to keep up with their husbands mentally and socially and who never try to be bright and entertaining and amusing and sympathetic drive their husbands to other women for companionship. The wives who pal with their husbands, who are always ready to grab their hats and go when their husbands want to step out, who are good listeners and who always have something interesting to talk about, never have to complain that they are left to spend lonely evenings at home while husband diverts himself elsewhere.

And women decide when they marry what kind of wives they are going to be; whether they are going to be helpmates or parasites; whether they are going to be peevish and fretful and complaining or good sports; whether they are going to take matrimony on the chin or go down before the first blow.

For marriage isn't the end of things to a woman. It is just the beginning where she starts out to make what she will of it. And there is no place in it where she can sit down and fold her hands and take it easily.

Uncle Wiggly's Cup of Tea

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time when Uncle Wiggly, who had gone adventuring, got back to his summer cottage in the woods at Green Lake he found neither his wife, Nurse Jane nor any of his busy children there to meet him. It was late in the afternoon. The rabbit gentleman had to go a long way to find out where his wife and children had nearly supper time.

"Hello! Hello! Where's everybody?" called Uncle Wiggly as he saw none of his family inside or outside the cottage. "What has happened? Where are you?"

"They're gone to the movies," said a little Lady Bug, who was sitting on the front porch, saw him go. "Your wife left a note for you on the screen door."

"Well, I'm glad they're all right and here of the Bad Chap have them," said Mr. Longears. "Thank you, Lady Bug." He hopped to the back door and there, sure enough, written on a piece of white birch bark was the note from his wife. It said: "Nurse Jane and I have taken all the children to an early movie. Sorry we couldn't wait for you. There is something to eat in the icebox. Make yourself a cup of tea."

LIKE CAMPING OUT

"That's just what I'll do," said Uncle Wiggly to himself after he had read the note. "I'll get my own supper and make a cup of tea. It will be like camping out. Then I'll lie in the hammock until they come back."

The rabbit gentleman knew how to get himself something to eat. He also knew how to make a cup of tea. He put the kettle on the gas stove and while he went to look and see what was in the icebox.

"I'll have a fine meal," said Mr. Longears when he saw some cold roast carrots, some stewed lettuce and a large cabbage shortcake. He set the things on the table and by that time the kettle was boiling, so he poured the hot water on the lettuce leaves in the pot, got his cup and saucer and sat down to wait for the tea to get strong enough so it wouldn't fall out of the cup when it was poured in.

Uncle Wiggly was feeling quite happy and jolly as he sat down to eat all by himself. He proposed the evening paper up on the sugar bowl and as he twiddled his pink nose he said: "There is no one here to tell me to put away my paper and not read at the table."

IN COMES FUZZY FOX

"Oh, yes there is!" suddenly said a loud voice, and with that the screen door banged open and in came the Fuzzy Fox. "I'm here," snarled the Bad Chap. "Not only will I put your supper away, but I'll put it down your throat. I'll put it down in my den! What do you think of that? Ha! Ha! Ha!"

"I don't think much of it," said Uncle Wiggly, sadly. He wished he had hooked the screen door to the Bad Chap's leg. But there he was and, in a moment, the Bad Chap began eating Uncle Wiggly's supper after knocking the sugar bowl to the floor most impudently. All of a sudden the rabbit gentleman thought of a trick to play.

"Wouldn't you like a nice cup of tea after your meal?" he asked the Fox, and the Fox, chewing the cabbage shortcake, said he would.

"Then here you are," said the rabbit, pouring the tea into his cup. "I just made it fresh."

"After I drink it I'll take you to my den," snarled the Fox. "You can't get in. Take it!" suddenly cried Uncle Wiggly. He threw the hot tea all over the Fox, making him most uncomfortable, and the Fox, giving a loud howl, rushed out of the cottage, leaving Mr. Longears there. Then the bunny got something more to eat, made more tea and everything was all right. And if the automobile will give the motor cycle a gasoline party in the garage I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly in a box.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, 1935

In general matters this is an unimportant day in planetary rule, according to astrology. There is a benefic aspect that should benefit women.

Love affairs should flourish over this week-end. Engagements may be numerous and sudden marriages may mark various summer romances.

The way is opening for outdoor concerts and other alfresco entertainments. It encourages amusements and is fortunate for all performers.

Plays and players should profit from work through this summer, which is bringing decisive changes to both the stage and the screen. New producers in New York and new inventions in Hollywood will bring about remarkable results.

Much criticism of federal policies is forecast at this time, when the failure of more than one relief project is indicated. Clamor for bread and true men and women as executives is forecast.

Alaska and many states are under a direction of the stars that seems to present serious difficulties in the realization of high ideals of public relief service.

Great activity in British markets and an influx of American capital has been prophesied for this month and the early autumn.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of fairly good luck, but perilous in business. It is wise to be careful in speech.

Children born on this day probably will be scrupulous in all things, bright of mind and persistent in carrying out plans affecting other persons.

Miss G. E. W. is an inventor, was born on this day 1811. Others who have celebrated it a birthday include Stanley Baldwin, British statesman, 1867.
